Congressmen Bitterly Resent Rebuke Given By Hoover

Congress Seems Bitter Against Hoover Charges

Statement Of President Breaks Up Party Cooperation

LEADERS OF BOTH PARTIES AROUSED

Tax Increase Is Foreseen As Cause Of President's Rebuke

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—President Hoover's caustic indictment of congress for "playing politics at the expense of human misery" left a residue of bitterness and resentment in both houses and both parties today.

The immediate effect of it has been to destroy the last vestige of the vaunted cooperation between the Republican and Democratic leadership in the economic crisis, and to call down upon Mr. Hoover's head criticism such as has not been heard of the president since the hectic days of Woodrow Wilson.

Democrats Sore
The Democrats are really sore, for they chose to interpret the President's statement as directed at them. Yet they are scarcely less angry than the Republicans at that, for some of the appropriation measures which Mr. Hoover had in mind in making his statement are of Republican authorship and sponsorship.

To arrive at his estimate that congress had before it measures which if passed, would appropriate $4,500,000,000.

PA NEW OBSERVES

The morning fog today was more dense and typically foggy than at any time in recent months this year. There were lights everywhere—headlights, street lights, etc. Even some merchants took advantage of the situation and switched on their electric signs.

Central fire station firemen told Pa. News that their 1911 model pumper which is always found at big blazes, is really a modern piece of fire fighting apparatus, as far as equipment is concerned. The pumper was built along advanced styles and today, firemen say, some automobile makers are equipping their models with additions which the pumper has known since 1911. One of these is an oil cooler.

Find Machine Gun In Woods Near Kane

(International News Service)
KANE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Leo Beatty and Cleveland Bradybaugh, two Kane nimrods who had taken to the woods in quest of the elusive deer, provided McKean county authorities with a first class mystery today when they found a machine gun, ready for action but minus the gunner, perched in the woods near Marienville.

What made the mystery more engrossing was the warning Beatty and Bradybaugh said they had received from natives of Marienville not to beat through certain sections of the country because of a "constant bombardment" in those sections.

The gun was mounted on a tripod at a deer crossing, the hunters said. Puzzled officials were conjuring up various theories to fit the mysterious find. These ranged from a conjecture that wholesale slaughter of bucks and does had been planned, to a surmise that "big shots" in the racketeering "industry" had taken to the rural sections to polish up their technique.

JORDAN WARNS FARMERS OF RELIEF LEGISLATION

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Members of the Pennsylvania Grange were advised to pay no attention to drought relief legislation, either at Washington or at Harrisburg, by Dr. C. G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, at today's session of the annual Grange convention here.

"We have had droughts before and recovered from them and we will recover from this one," Dr. Jordan said.

He warned farmers that any money loaned to them by the government would have to be repaid with interest and that in the long run it would be a burden to them instead of providing relief.

Farmers at the convention, long-suffering from the unprecedented drought, were cheered by predictions that it will be decisively broken early in the new year.

Today's sessions, as yesterday's, were secret and only members of the Grange were admitted to them.

Tonight, the degree "Patron of Husbandry" will be conferred on several members. Governor-elect Gifford Pinchot, a member of the organization, will address the organization, will address the principal address.

Seaplane Soars Over New Castle

A tri-motored hydroplane flew over New Castle at about 1:45 this afternoon. The plane appeared from an eastern direction and disappeared in the north-eastern skies.

The plane was flying low and was seen by quite a number of local people. The huge three motors made a noise that could be easily heard over the city. It was a monoplane.

SENATORS SPEAK BEFORE SESSIONS

Big Delegation From Western Pennsylvania Attends Gathering

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Assurance that Congress would carefully study the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal from Ashtabula, O. to Rochester via Youngstown, was given a delegation of Pittsburgh civic leaders here today by Rep. Dempsey (R) of New York, chairman of the House Rivers and Harbors committee.

Dempsey spent an hour in discussion with the Pittsburgh industrial leaders, delegates to the National Rivers and Harbors Congress in session here, and told them he was thoroughly in favor of the proposed project.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—With Senator James J. Davis, newly elected Pennsylvania senator, taking an active part in proceedings thus far, the twenty-sixth annual convention of the National Rivers and Harbors Congress swung into its second session today.

Western Pennsylvania, represented by one of the largest delegations to the congress, was to receive official recognition during the day by the election of Colonel Shepherd to the congress resolutions committee and the re-election of Captain J. Frank Tilley as a vice president of the congress. Both men were nominated without opposition.

Among the speakers today were Senator Smith W. Brookhart (R) of Iowa; Captain S. S. Sanberg of Los Angeles, United States Shipping Board Commissioner, and John W. Carpenter of Dallas, president of the Texas Power and Light Company.

Maj. Gen. Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers told "the delegates congress should avoid fighting about the methods of building waterways. Leave method to the engineers, laymen know little about method," he said.

Urge River Project
Delegates from the Pittsburgh, Youngstown, New Castle and Beaver districts are strongly urging endorsement by the congress of the proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal which was advocated at the regular session.

Prizes Valued At $345,000 Given To Former Secretary Kellogg Today

(International News Service)
OSLO, Dec. 10.—Before a brilliant audience, Frank B. Kellogg, former United States secretary of state, was presented today with the Nobel Peace prize for 1929 in recognition of his authorship of the Kellogg Pact to outlaw war.

In presenting the award, Premier Mowinkel of Norway praised the initiative of the United States in peace moves, and paid warm tribute to the individual efforts of Mr. Kellogg.

Responding, Kellogg said that the award was the greatest honor he had ever received in his life and an honor to the United States.

"Outlawry of war is impossible immediately," he said, "but it will come with educated public opinion." Dr. Nathan Soderblom, Archbishop of Upsala, Sweden, was presented with the Nobel Peace prize for 1930. The prizes total about $345,000 each.

Doctor Lured From Home And Robbed Of Purse

Quartet Abducts Dr. Charles J. Smyser Of New Wilmington Last Evening

TAKEN TO LONELY SPOT IN COUNTRY

Robbers Threaten Him If Information Is Given To Police Authorities

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 10. Dr. Charles J. Smyser, widely known physician of this place, was lured from his home by a quartet of highwaymen, taken to a spot along the Sharon road, where he was robbed of his pocketbook, and was then returned unharmed to his home at an early hour last evening.

About 7 o'clock last evening, Dr. Smyser was called to the door of his home by one of the men, who told him his wife was seriously ill and needed immediate medical attention.

Suspecting nothing out of the way, Dr. Smyser secured his coat and hat and started to follow the man to his car. As he approached the machine he was seized by the other three and pushed into the car. They took him to a spot along the Sharon road, about a mile and a half north of here, rifling his pockets along the way.

Bring Him Back.
Then, after holding a short discussion, they brought him back to his home here, threatening him if he told anyone of the occurrence.

Dr. Smyser did not make a report of the case until this morning. Fortunately he had but $5 in his pocketbook. It is believed the men may have thought he would have a large sum of money in his pockets.

County authorities were furnished a description of the men, and a search is now being conducted for them.

Bishop Manning May Get Blame For Church Riot

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—That Bishop Wilfrid Manning provoked the disturbance in the Cathedral of St. John the divine last Sunday when Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver was ejected from the church by making a "slandering attack" upon him will be the defense of the fiery little former judge, it was disclosed today. Lindsey will appear in court here Friday to answer disorderly charges.

After a conference with counsel, Judge Lindsey said he would contend that the bishop by his statement in the church about him and companionate marriage "had incited a riot," causing men to strike him and women to shout "lynch him."

Was Slandered.
"Bishop Manning willfully and without cause provoked a breach of the peace by slandering me in the cathedral," Lindsey said.

CONGRESS GOES AHEAD WITH RELIEF MEASURES DESPITE HOOVER REBUKE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—A belated congressional rebuke and showering of criticism on the White House, went forward today with its own program for relief of unemployment and agricultural distress.

The senate and house exchanged relief measures, the senate receiving a $110,000,000 measure passed by the house to accelerate federal construction while the house received the senate's $60,000,000 feed, seed and food loan bill to relieve agricultural distress. The fate of the house bill was in some doubt, since the hostile senate may refuse to turn any funds over to Mr. Hoover for lump sum expenditure by the treasury department.

Face Showdown.
The senate meanwhile faced a showdown on Mr. Hoover's declaration against any increase by the youthful Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, who would put the senate on record as favoring increased taxes for the relief of "human suffering in this emergency," despite White House influence to the contrary. LaFollette's resolution has the endorsement of numerous Democratic leaders and may revive the old Democratic-insurgent coalition that has battled Republican administrations for the last ten years.

The resolution read: "Whereas, millions of American citizens are in destitute circumstances due to unemployment and face privation and suffering, and

"Whereas, the president of the United States, in a public statement has indicated that consideration for the interests of income taxpayers necessitates restriction on governmental relief measures necessary to aid the jobless and their dependants, now therefore,

"Be it resolved, that it is the sense of the senate of the United States that the relief of human suffering in this emergency should take precedence over the consideration of the interests of wealthy income taxpayers."

Endorsed By Borah.
Senator William E. Borah (R) of Idaho immediately endorsed the resolution.

"I have received correspondence from all over the country insisting upon increasing income taxes especially in the higher brackets to take care of the unemployed," Borah said.

Two Edensburg Youths Victims In Crash Today

Auto Struck By Pennsy Train At Crossing Near Edensburg

FOG OBSCURES ACCIDENT SCENE

Jesse Mayberry And Ike Cameron Killed Out-right In Crash

Their vision obscured by heavy fog, two Edensburg residents, Jesse Mayberry, aged 21 years, and Ike Cameron, also 21, riding in Mayberry's closed machine, were killed outright when a fast Cincinnati-New Castle passenger train of the Pennsylvania Railroad struck them on an Edensburg road crossing at 8:50 o'clock this morning.

Both Mayberry and Cameron were dead by the time engineers brought the speeding train to a halt some distance from the crossing. First aid measures were used by train attaches, but to no avail.

Shock In Community
Known quite widely throughout the Edensburg district, news of the death of the two proved a stunning shock to their host of friends. The heavy-laden fog which blanketed the entire county today is believed accountable for the crash.

Pennsylvania officials here said the train is due at the west side depot here at 9:10 a. m. and was operating on time. The estimated speed at which it was traveling was placed at 50 miles an hour.

John A. Waddell, of this city, engineer of the train, reported that he had been using his whistle continuously because of the unusual hazy condition that existed this morning. The whistle, he said, at the time of the crash. The headlight of the engine was also burning.

Didn't See Auto
Waddell didn't catch a glimpse of the automobile until only a few yards from the crossing, and had no chance whatever to stop his train. However, as he sighted the car he—

I'd like to find an original card, one that was strictly new, one that was not all smothered with words, and tinsel and glittering goo. One that was snappy and full of pep, one that was happy and gay, one that said just what you'd want it to, for the spirit of Christmas Day. But the cards I've seen are the same old cards, pretty I'll grant you yes, and full of the words that are written to send a little of happiness. And I guess there aren't any brand new cards, though I've hunted stores through and through, they all have the same old Christmasy lines the weather is fifty two.

That was a terrible trick that fellow Stalin played on those eight convicted men. They had confessed, thinking they would be hung and put out of their misery. Now he tells 'em they got to live, and in Russia.

Not changing the subject, but somebody was just telling us that congress was in session. We certainly hope that rumor was unfounded.

Senate Committee Approves Bill For Immediate Relief

House Bill Appropriating $110,000,000 Given Approval Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—With surprising speed the senate appropriations committee today approved the house bill appropriating $110,000,000 in a lump sum to speed the government's building program.

President Hoover recommended this bill and asked $150,000,000. The house passed it yesterday but reduced the fund to $110,000,000, the leaders saying the other $40,000,000 would be taken care of in regular appropriation bills.

The senate committee also eliminated from the treasury and post-office appropriation bill a house provision forbidding pay increases during the coming year. The house wrote that limitation into the bill as an economic maneuver but the treasury department appealed to the senate to remove the restriction.

With the pay limitation eliminated, the committee then reported the bill favorably. It carried a total appropriation of $1,084,399,303 for the treasury and postoffice departments, an increase of $845,360 over the amount approved by the house.

Two Hundred Men To Report

Meyer Avenue Storm Sewer To Be Started Thursday Morning

PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE TRESER REPORTS

Two hundred men who have not been employed for some time will receive employment for three days, commencing Thursday, when the city start building the Meyer avenue storm sewer and continues widening of the Narrows.

The letters, containing numbers and tags, were sent out yesterday by Councilman Stanley Treser.

Men who receive yellow tags will report at 7:45 a. m. at Meyer avenue and Delaware avenue.

Treser said that those who receive letters with red tags should report at the same time at the intersection of Rural avenue and the Narrows.

The men who are now working on the Narrows will cease work tonight and draw salary Friday. The last three days men will be paid Tuesday.

Councilman Stanley Treser and Foreman Frank Wood are heartily pleased with the men who have been working along the Narrows.

"They have not loitered on the job. In fact, they have worked with a vim and the results of their work is to be seen by anybody," said Treser.

The widening started at the upper turn and several feet of the big hillside has been cut down.

The rock which is being removed has been placed on the east side of the road and will be used in helping to make a foundation, perhaps for a wall.

Treser said today that men who report Thursday should bring with them a container so they would receive good, strengthening soup at noon.

Radiator Plant Employees To Aid

Mayor William H. Gillespie today stated that he had been advised today by E. L. Brundage, superintendent that all the employees of the National Radiator corporation, employed in this city, had this morning met and agreed to donate one percent of their weekly wage to the mayor's committee, for the relief of those unemployed.

The donation will occur every week for some time to come. The money will be turned over by Mr. Brundage to Mayor William H. Gillespie who is the general chairman of the finance committee of the mayor's relief committee.

The city's chief executive thanked the men through Mr. Brundage and on behalf of the committee accepted the generous offer.

The two Ball brothers were on trial charged with having run over a pedestrian with their car late at night and so injuring him as to ultimately cause his death. It came out at the trial that the pedestrian had been deaf since early childhood, and that despite his infirmity he insisted on taking walks on busy highways at night and that he also had a habit of walking in the middle of the roadway.

The lawyer for the Ball brothers argued that in view of all this, the pedestrian by his infirmity and his stubborn habits had so contributed to his mishap that he was guilty of contributory negligence to such an extent as to cause the accident by the two boys. But the trial dragged on.

applied the emergency brakes, stopping the four-coach train probably 400 feet down the track.

Mayberry, the owner of the sedan, was married, while Cameron was single.

The crossing where the accident occurred, on the Edensburg-to-Hillsville road, is protected by standard railroad crossing signals. It is presumed, however, that both men failed to hear the whistle and ringing bell, or to see the glaring headlights, and drove onto the crossing without catching the slightest glimpse of the train.

An ambulance called from New Castle brought the bodies here and relatives were summoned. They did not know why the two were out driving, but presumed that they were seeking work.

Fourth Violent Death
Mr. Cameron was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Cameron of East Brook, both of whom are living. The unfortunate accident today marked the fourth violent death in the Cameron family, two other brothers and a sister having been killed in accidents.

A brother, Earl, met death in a similar manner as did like today, having been struck by a Pennsylvania train at a point near the Edensburg station. Another, Chiron, was killed in an explosion at a powder plant in the Edensburg district, and a sister, Levis, was a victim of an automobile crash in Detroit some time ago.

The Cameron family numbered 18, two of the children having died in infancy. Surviving like are the following brothers and sisters: Vincent, of New Castle R. D. 2; Riley, of the Youngstown road, this city; Clayton, Butler avenue, this city; Nannie, Struthers, O.; Lawrence, Edensburg; Ella, Detroit; Gaylord, Pulaski; Thayer, East Brook; and another sister, Rodys, of Mt. Jackson.

Mr. Mayberry leaves his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Price Mayberry, of near Edensburg, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayberry, also of that place. Besides the following brothers and sisters survive: William and Robert, Edensburg; Thomas, of Mahoning township; James, of New Castle; Mrs. Rachel Cragcroft, Hillsville; Mrs. Margaret Gregg, Hillsville; Mrs. Tille Conti, Hillsville, and Bessie, who resides at their home near Edensburg.

Funeral announcements will be made later.

cent meeting of the Mississippi Valley Association in St. Louis.

James F. Burke, general counsel for the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, told the congress that construction of the canal would "enrich and enlarge with new industries and increased population a veritable industrial empire."

Burke hastened to point out that waterway developments, such as the proposed Beaver-Ashtabula Canal, are not inimical to the best interests of railroads. He declared that the canal is amply justified from commercial and economic standpoints and that it would be of great strategic value in the event of war.

To Meet Army Engineer
A convention highlight was expected when a sub-committee of the river-to-lake delegation meets with Major General Lytle Brown, chief of army engineers, in an effort to learn the attitude of the War Department in regard to the proposed canal.

Canalization of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango rivers, declared Congressman John G. Cooper of Youngstown, should be the first step taken toward the canal project.

Senator Davis, who said he had been closely following the canal bill and developments resulting from efforts to have the mammoth project started, stated that his sympathy lay with any movement that will be for the best interests of the citizens of Western Pennsylvania.

The sponsor of the bill for a survey of the Beaver, Mahoning and Shenango rivers is Congressman J. Howard Swick of Beaver, Pa. Swick said that when he introduced his survey bill he had no other thought in mind than a complete canal. "But until all of us in Western Pennsylvania put our shoulders to the wheel, nothing can be done," Swick pointed out. "Let us all get back of this canal solidly and we'll have it."

STAR LORE
NEPTUNE'S ROTATION SEEN WITH THE SPECTROSCOPE
By Arthur DeV. Carpenter

The Spectroscopic, which has made possible the "new astronomy," enables the astronomer to determine the rotary velocity of planets that show no outward physical markings. Neptune, always immersed in clouds is an illustration: When submitted to the spectroscopic, its eastern limb (edge) showed spectral lines shifted toward the violet end; and the western limb, to the red end. This shift is known as the Doppler effect: When a luminous body is approaching, its spectrum lines shift toward the short wave end (violet); when receding, to the long wave end (red). Neptune's rotation period was found to be about 15.8 hours, spinning from west to east. Physical markings on Mars show up its rotation.

000,000 more than proposed in the budget. Mr. Hoover had to include the proposal to make an immediate cash settlement of the veterans' compensation certificates. That amounts to some $3,500,000,000.

The senate sponsorship of this measure rests with senator Vansant (D) of Michigan a regular to his finger-tips, and a leader in what has been known at the Capitol as "The Hoover Young Guard."

The $60,000,000 drought relief measure which passed the senate yesterday, exceeding by $35,000,000 the amount recommended by Mr. Hoover, bore the sponsorship of Senator McNary (R) of Oregon, a staunch administration supporter, and chairman of the agriculture committee.

Similarly with other measures. It was difficult to tell on Capitol Hill today which were the angriest over the president's statement, the Republicans or the Democrats. The Democrats seemed to be, but perhaps it was only because they were more articulate.

Significant Fact.
It was a significant fact that during the furious hours of debate that followed the reading of the president's statement in the senate, no Republican arose to defend it. Senator Reed (R) of Pennsylvania denied the charge that it was a "partial statement," pointing out that it was directed at the Republicans as much as at the Democrats, but he made no other defense of it.

The blunt fact is that the president's statement stunned the Republican leadership as well as the Democratic, and it came at a time when the leaders were rather patting themselves on the back for the smooth way in which things were going. Congress has only been in session for seven legislative days, including the perfunctory opening day, and yet in that time has made a rather impressive start on its program. Two of the measures proposed by Mr. Hoover in his message, the emergency public buildings bill and the drought relief bill, already have passed, which constitutes a near-record.

Senator Robinson, the Democratic leader, whose leadership has been under fire ever since the famous promise of "cooperation," absented himself from the senate chamber during the hurricane that followed Mr. Hoover's statement. So did Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader. Neither of them made any comment for publication.

See Tax Increase.
Privately, the Democrats are accusing Mr. Hoover of seeking to fasten upon them the responsibility for an increase in income taxes which most fiscal authorities in which most fiscal authorities in Washington believe is inevitable.

In his message to congress, the president estimated there would be a deficit this year of $180,000,000 even if congress holds appropriations to the minimum. And the deficit will be held at that point only by the application of foreign debt payment to current expenses. Since the delivery of that message, it has been admitted that neither the $150,000,000 for unemployment relief nor the $80,000,000 for drought relief were taken into consideration when the deficit of $180,000,000 was figured. Addition of these two items alone bring the prospective deficit to approximately $400,000,000.

Inevitably, according to most financial authorities here, this deficit must be made up by an increase in income taxes. And, needless to say, it is a burden for which neither party cares to shoulder responsibility.

In any event, it will be many a day before the dust and smoke kicked up by Mr. Hoover's statement, dies down on Capitol Hill.

OCCUPATIONAL DANGERS

THE different branches of science have not always been able to keep in step. Man's inquiring genius has led to valuable discoveries which could not be used without detriment to health, because medical knowledge was unable at first to suggest protective devices. Instances frequently attract public attention.

Improved methods of drilling in rock have set up a fatal occupational disease given the technical name of silicosis. The workers are forced to inhale fine particles of rock dust, which results eventually in a pulmonary condition that causes death.

An historic case was that of the women radium workers who two years ago were awarded heavy damages from their employers because they had contracted a malady which breaks down the bone structure and for which there is no known preventive or remedy.

Perhaps the reason these conditions attract such wide attention today is that they were far more general a few years ago, before working conditions in the American factory and office were improved from the standpoint of health. Many printers can still remember when their occupation was a hazardous one, mainly because of poor ventilation and crude methods.

The remarkable thing is that no occupation is too dangerous to attract workers who are willing to take the risk if the remuneration is a little above the standard wage. The government must protect these against themselves.

Much more noble is the sacrifice made by those who have given their lives or health in the laboratory for the advancement of science and for the benefit of mankind.

TELETYPE TELLS WHAT TO WEAR

The State Police telephone-typewriter, with 106 stations installed for rapid communication in the pursuit of criminals, will take on another function in the dissemination of weather facts. Bulletins on snowstorms, slippery roads and other data will be distributed by this service. Hereafter when a motorist wishes to travel from one section of Pennsylvania to another he may call up the nearest police department to learn what to expect at his destination. He will know whether to put skid-chains on the wheels and alcohol in the radiator, whether to wear his heavy underwear or to take his bathing suit and raincoat.

The development is a novel one. An instrument of police power for thwarting anti-social conduct becomes a means of guiding others in the paths of peace. It tells us whether we shall be clothed if we would avoid seasonal and regional discomforts. Acceptance, of course, is optional.

MAGIC OF SALVAGE

It is often the case that those who are remote from an industry have the inventive turn of mind for it. This is certainly true in the case of discarded automobile tires. In countries where the automobile is relatively scarce the discarded tire is made use of in ways that would open an American's eyes.

In China these discarded are used for many purposes. But Spain appears to have developed more uses for the worn-out tire than any other nation. The manufacturers of rubber heels, belts, garters and toy balloons go to this humble source for their raw materials.

Spain is not a producer of tires at present, although it used to be. It imports from the United States large quantities of cast-off automobile tires and other rubber commodities, returning much of the reclaimed rubber to Uncle Sam's shores in the form of toy balloons and other articles.

It has been said that no nation has become permanently prosperous until it has learned the magic of salvage. It must turn its waste to profit for that extra margin of gain which beats competition.

American industry has made reclamation of waste and by-products a source of great wealth. A large percentage of iron and steel waste finds its way back to the furnace to be recast into new manufactures. Railroad efficiency allows of no waste of materials. The derelict of the motor highways lands in the automobile graveyard it is already well on its way back to the steel furnace.

THE REBUILDING OF CITY SLUMS

The recent appeal of the American Construction Council, urging a general movement for the rebuilding of city slums, has met with a sympathetic reception in all parts of the country, but it is too soon to say definitely whether there will be any practical results. It is perfectly certain there has not been in years a better time for doing this sort of work. The cost of material is lower now than it is likely to be in the future, and the opportunity for obtaining labor can hardly ever be duplicated in our time. Here is a chance for philanthropy that is almost unprecedented. It would not be charity in the ordinary meaning of that word. As the Construction Council says, "it offers one of the greatest available sources of capital funds for ownership and investment purposes on a limited-dividend basis, and as such can be properly conducted by private business enterprise for specific projects in each locality."

There is nothing visionary about this suggestion. It has been tried with success in New York City and elsewhere. It has the advantage of serving a three-fold purpose. It provides means for a moderate return on capital; it gives the poor and those in ordinary circumstances modern homes with all the latest improvements at a minimum cost; and it serves to wipe out those city eyesores which are known as the slums. There is hardly a city with a population in excess of 100,000 which could not find some section that could be improved to the advantage of all concerned.

The time has come for wiping out the ugliness of our large communities. Wise zoning laws have helped in a general way. The permanent improvement of the poorer sections would be an investment that would pay dividends, not only in money, but in health and the public welfare—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Nowadays the only ones whose political opinions differ are those who belong to the same party.

It is difficult to say whether the genius behind the "paragraphs" about congress is that of congress or of the columnists.

PUPPY IN THE HOUSE

There's a puppy in the house and her name is Patsy. Other names, like Ginger and Wiggles, were suggested, but it was finally agreed that Patsy suited her best—though she has plenty of ginger in her and she wiggles all over the place when you let her in.

She's a cocker spaniel, near 4 months old, and it's a joy to look at her—at that strong little barrel of hers, at that waxy tail with the sort of hair on the end of it, at those solid little legs, at that fine head with the quivering ear and the rounded brow and the soft, intelligent eyes and the long silk ears.

She has a good pedigree, but she doesn't know it. Patsy is just herself, without frills or pretenses, but her great-great-grand-mother's name was Pleasant Tease, and Patsy is a pleasant tease, too. She pulls at little girls' belts, she runs away with little boys' belts, she gives you a rest when she wants to play and then, when she's tired, she suddenly flops down on her cushion and goes sound asleep—like a healthy baby.

Patsy is no radical. She dislikes change. If she comes into a room and sees a strange handbag in a corner or a chair out of place or a book laid carelessly on her cushion, she backs away and barks furiously. "Why is everybody always changing things?" she seems to be asking.

Patsy has a comical way of listening to the radio. She sits up solidly and stares straight at the speaker, then slowly cocks her head at strange angles. Her big ears get in the way of sound, and when she drinks her milk they drop down into the dish and get wet.

She's amusing when she runs; her hind legs don't exactly follow her front ones; an automobile mechanic would say she has a "sprung frame," but it doesn't worry Patsy.

She never sulks, she never carries a grudge. Sometimes she is locked in the cellar when the family is away, but she greets them with wild, wiggling joy when they return. Some dogs may sulk, but not Patsy—she lives for the gallant, cheerful moment, in the spirit of Pleasant Tease, who was her grand-mother. Children are her playmates, but her best friend is the Lady of the House, who feeds her and spansks her once in a while and helped her back to life when she ate the ant poison and was a very sick puppy indeed.

I find myself quite unable to describe her, but I console myself with the thought that few people on earth can ever describe a dog and sometimes when I look at her I think of what Helen Keller, blind and deaf, wrote about dogs. I have quoted it before, and surely I shall be quoting it many times again. She wrote:

"Were my Maker to grant me but a single glance through these sightless eyes, I would without question or recall choose to see first a child, then a dog."

I wish Helen Keller could see Patsy.

LITTLE THINGS LOOK BIG

How foolish to continue a quarrel with foolishness.

Often financial matters come up and you think you are getting a fair and square deal.

Sometimes the quarrel is over an inconsequential matter.

Perhaps it has been carried on for years till you realize the foolishness of it but you are unwilling to take the first step toward reconciliation.

Then you are still a little boy or girl though you hair may be white.

Family love should be strong enough to overlook trifling differences.

The trouble is that it is the little things that look so big.

Family quarrels are usually childish in their lack of importance.

For years you have not spoken to some relative.

How much satisfaction has it been to you?

Many times you have regretted the disagreement.

Life is too short to harbor the sort of ill-feeling created by quarrels with relatives.

It drives out cheerful agreeable thoughts which one must have to get the most out of life and there isn't a sum of money large enough to make up for the whirlpool of meanness that a family quarrel can engender.

WELCOME the decision of the court, the PORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL holds that "there should be some method whereby the local exhibitor can exercise discrimination in selecting programs," while the GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE believes that as a result of the court's action "the rebuilding of the entire structure of the film-producing organization" will become necessary, and that "with the omission of the features held unlawful" there will be "freer competition, which is not only desirable but essential."

Similar views are held by the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS as to the prospect of reorganization, but that paper adds: "With what results to the public, the quality of the pictures and the stability of the industry remains to be seen."

The Daily News concludes: "The anti-trust law is in full force and effect, so far as the Supreme court is concerned. The movement for its revision and modernization is bound to be stimulated by the latest decision."

"There is little likelihood" in the judgment of the HARTFORD DAILY TIMES, "that the anti-trust law will be weakened or repealed in order to give leaders in industry and business greater freedom to combine their resources for complete control of the factors of production, distribution and sale. Against the almost inevitable abuses that would arise under such freedom the public needs the protection of a law which will keep competition at work."

"This case illustrates," declares the LEXINGTON LEADER, "not only the vital force of the anti-trust laws and their great importance as a means of protecting public and private rights and the liberties of the people, but the fact, that the administration is determined that the Sherman act shall be enforced. The attorney general, Mr. Mitchell, is thoroughly alive to the importance of administering the laws against all combinations in restraint of trade, and the success of the government in the present instance will have a wholesome effect."

Chance For Superior Movies Created By Court Decision

Action Against Producers' And Distributors' Combination Is Hailed As Evidence Of Continued Effectiveness Of Anti-Trust Law

Action by the United States Supreme Court against a combination of motion picture producers and distributors is accepted by Americans as offering a prospect of improvement in the films through a ban on methods of making contracts for the pictures at individual theaters. The Court, by its decision, directs attention, in the judgment of a part of the public, to the continued effectiveness of the anti-trust laws.

"A momentous decision" is recognized by the HOUSTON CHRONICLE, which thinks that "it may very well have great effect upon the future production of films and indirectly upon the cultural and moral standards of the people of America." The Chronicle adds: "The citizens of this nation as a whole will be more than satisfied with the judgment of their highest tribunal. The Sherman law is a good law. It had and has for its purpose the prevention of monopolies. It encourages competition. The so-called trusts which have been attacked by the federal government in the past have as a rule been those which furnished the general public with food, light, heat, clothing. The attorney general of the United States during liberal and progressive administrations has tried to shield the people from the unceasing aggression of privilege. He has sought to insure material comfort for the many against the greed of the few."

"The unlawful practices in restraint of trade," according to the WORCESTER EVENING GAZETTE, "will now be abandoned. But if the producers and distributors who control 98 per cent of the country's films want to keep their stranglehold on the motion picture business, they must devise some legal way to do it. As long as the Hays group or any other group exercises such control as that, we entertain slight hope of a speedy improvement in the quality of the pictures which the public is permitted to see."

The business, because of its highly important place in American life," concludes the MORGANTOWN DOMINION-NEWS, "is on the brink of governmental regulation. The industry alone can keep itself out of this status. And it can do so only by ceasing its efforts at monopoly for financial purposes and other abuses incident to centralized control. While it is expected that the industry will continue to be conducted primarily for profit, those in charge must realize that the public interest has risen to a place of equal importance and must receive equal consideration. Unless the motion picture interests do recognize this fact, by their acts as well as by their professions, they are heading toward further regulation."

It is held by the LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL that "what the act requires and the public is entitled to a method whereby the local exhibitor can exercise discriminating taste in selecting programs, so that the millions residing in thousands of one-theater towns may see the best of the studios produce, and by patronizing it encourage the artistic side of the industry."

"We hear much of racketeering nowadays," remarks the KANSAS CITY STAR. "The term has become significant of oppression. Yet the monopoly which is uncontrolled by some kind of government regulation, or, may be, only a more respectable name for the racket. It may, and in many instances has, worked about the same way and with the same result. The federal supreme court has ruled, without a dissenting opinion, against the film monopoly, but what relief the ruling may bring to the exhibitors remains to be seen, but it is a result of breaking the combine, we shall have real competition in film production, the change should be beneficial not only to the general motion picture business, but to the standards of production as well."

Welcome the decision of the court, the PORT WAYNE NEWS-SENTINEL holds that "there should be some method whereby the local exhibitor can exercise discrimination in selecting programs," while the GREEN BAY PRESS-GAZETTE believes that as a result of the court's action "the rebuilding of the entire structure of the film-producing organization" will become necessary, and that "with the omission of the features held unlawful" there will be "freer competition, which is not only desirable but essential."

District Deputy Commander Edwards was a guest Tuesday evening when the Perry S. Gaston Post, No. 343, American Legion met for its regular meeting in the Legion Home. He spoke on the plan of the Legion to provide ex-service men with work wherever it is possible, and congratulated the local post upon its plan of providing food for needy ex-service men and their families. Many of the members brought donations of foodstuffs to start the collection of the post, one of the men bringing a 100 pound sack of beans. Commander Guy J. Should Seek To Lower Number Of Mine Accidents

"Accidents In Mining Field Should Be Diminished," State Inspector Says

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—Accidents in and around mines should be much less in number than they are now.

With this declaration as his theme, S. S. Hall, Pennsylvania state mine inspector, today told delegates to the coal mining institute of America here that 85 per cent of all mine accidents are preventable.

"If the medical profession coupled with other agencies accomplished such good results in the preservation of human life and the other major industries have reduced the number of accidents to one fourth of what they were twenty years ago in those industries and many large coal companies have greatly reduced the number of accidents in their mines within recent years, why can't we reduce the number of accidents in the mining industry as a whole?" Hall asked.

Need Best Efforts

Answering his own question, the speaker declared:

"I think we can if every person connected with mining would put forth their best efforts at all times."

Hall said that he placed responsibility for 95 per cent of mine accidents not directly on any one class of men but on all classes "directly in proportion to the degree in which they carry out the provisions relating to safety in their various classes of work."

Summing up his recommendations to reduce the number of mine accidents and the fatalities that accompany them, Hall said that after the operator has provided and installed all necessary supplies, equipment and safety devices incident to production of coal, the officials and workmen should cooperate and use such equipment for their intended purpose.

Gases Cause Tragedy.

Hall said that contributing factors to dangers in modern mining were more than offset by safety agencies. The danger factors he listed as larger mine cars, faster moving trips and more extensive mines working coal under a heavier cover which tends to make pillar extracting more hazardous, as a rule, and tends to liberate more explosive gas.

Detective Kills Man By Mistake

Cleveland Detective Shoots Man In Mistake For Escaped Criminal

NEWSPAPER WORKER INNOCENT VICTIM

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, O., Dec. 10.—Mistaken for an escaped suspect murderer, Joseph Fortini, 22, newspaper circulation manager, was dead today, the victim of a shot fired by detective Patrick McNeely, who realized his mistake before the man had fallen to the sidewalk.

McNeely reported to police chief George J. Matowitz that he had mistaken Fortini for "Smiling Joe" Filkowski who escaped from city detectives last week.

McNeely followed Fortini through the crowded streets shortly before the 5 o'clock rush hour, he told his superior. When he was sure of the identity of his suspect he telephoned the detective bureau for aid in capturing Fortini.

As Fortini left a store where he had turned over his day's collection the police squad car had already drawn up to the curb, while McNeely stood nearby.

Only One Shot
According to the detective's report as the youth turned in answer to a command to halt and throw up his hands, he held one hand in his overcoat pocket, as if he were holding a revolver. McNeely fired one shot and Fortini fell, fatally wounded.

Scores of persons caught in the afternoon rush ran screaming into the street at the sound of the shot and sight of the falling body. Detectives from the squad car, stationed nearby, removed Fortini to Charity Hospital where he died a half hour later.

Prominent police and civic officials in Cleveland promised a thorough and impartial investigation of the shooting.

According to the data collected, workers of both sexes employed in dyeing and finishing textiles in Pennsylvania mills receive an average of 51.2 cents per hour and $27.14 per full-time week. In the eight leading textile states included in the survey, hourly earnings for both sexes taken together average only 45.2 cents and full-time weekly earnings average $23.01. The average full-time week, however, is 33 hours in Pennsylvania, as compared with 50.9 hours for the eight states.

Male workers in the Pennsylvania mills average 54.6 cents per hour and $29.10 per full-time week, as against 47.3 cents per hour and $24.12 per week in the eight states as a whole. Female workers employed in dyeing and finishing textiles in Pennsylvania establishments receive 35.2 cents per hour and $18.20 per week, which likewise is substantially better than the average of 33.5 cents per hour and $16.92 per full-time week which is maintained in the representative portion of the industry included in the survey, but is not as high relatively as the wages of the male workers in the state.

Peter's Adventures
A CHANCE TO TURN TRAITOR
In spite of the predicament in which he found himself, the boy could not help laughing. The Redskins were tumbling to the ground like so many ninepins. His trusty spike was standing him in good stead.
"Not so fast, my good Ants," cried Peter. "I am only a Two-legs, to be sure, but I can fight with the best of you. Don't make any mistake! You will never take me alive without a struggle. You are many and I am only one, and maybe you can overpower me with your numbers, but there will be a lot of you who will never live to tell the tale. Think well before you attack, Redskins! Making an end of me may not be so easy as you think!"
Peter was taking no chances. Without waiting for the Red Ants' next move, he rushed at them and, taken unawares, they fell back.
"Hey stop that!" pleaded the leader. "My soldiers are no match for that terrible weapon of yours! We need an ally like you. It is foolish to fight against so powerful a foe. Will you join the Redskin army? Come, now, boy, how about it?"
"I'm willing to declare a truce," said Peter, looking steadily at Red Ant. "But how am I to know whether I can trust you? Actions speak louder than words, you know, and just a moment ago you were ready to tear me to pieces. What proof have I that you will not fly at me again the moment I am off guard?"
"No proof but my promise. I never go back on that!" declared the Red Ant leader, proudly. "Join our army and I will make you High Commander of the Spike Brigade!"

New Laboratory Nears Completion
Princeton High School Has School Activities
One of the features at the Princeton high school is a new chemistry laboratory which is now being completed. Principal E. E. Anderson announced that Miss Mettie A. Round will be in charge of this new department. The enrollment at the Slippery Rock township school for this semester is close to 200 students.
At the present time the chemistry laboratory is receiving final touches toward completion and will probably be ready for use by the classes in about two weeks. This department will be equipped with new modern apparatus throughout. Miss Round, the chemistry teacher is teaching the chemistry text book at the present and as soon as the new department is ready will teach text book work along with laboratory work.
Miss Round is also busily engaged directing a play which will be presented later by the senior class. The production will be "Patty Made Things Hum". Rehearsals are being held daily.
The athletic department of this institution is also sponsoring a play to raise adequate funds for athletics.
A sport at the Princeton school which appears to appeal to the students is volleyball which is played daily. Two volleyball courts have been placed in the gymnasium of the school. When the students have spare time they make use of the volleyball ball courts.
Six teachers compose the teaching staff of this school.

Don't neglect your child's COUGH or COLD
TRY this milder "counter-irritant." Good old Musterole, made milder for babies and small children. So pleasant to use and so reliable—apply Children's Musterole freely to the affected area once every hour for five hours. That's the safe, sure treatment that millions of mothers and leading doctors and nurses recognize and endorse.
Musterole gets action because it is a "counter-irritant"—not just a salve—it penetrates and stimulates blood circulation, helps to draw out infection and pain.
That's why this famous blend of oil of mustard, camphor, menthol and other helpful ingredients brings relief naturally. Keep full strength Musterole on hand for adults and Children's Musterole for the little tots.

Engineers Hear Interesting Talk
Lee E. Allen Is Elected President of Local Society For 1931
The Engineers Society of New Castle held its December meeting in the Lecture Room of the P. and O. Electric company building on Monday evening. Ninety-eight members were in attendance and heard A. M. Candy, general engineer in charge of the Westinghouse company, lecture on electric arc welding. Accompanying Mr. Candy to New Castle was Mr. J. T. Pedan, manager of the Steel Mill Division of the Westinghouse company.
The lecture was ably delivered and illustrated throughout with stereopticon slides. All those hearing the lecture agreed that it was one of the best features that has come before the society in the past year.
One of the most important facts brought out was the saving in time of production and weight of material used. The use of the electric arc in welding large generators, motors and structural buildings, such as industrial plants, hotels, and bridges, was shown and cost data given.
After the lecture, the election of officers was held and the following officers were elected—President Lee E. Allen, Pennsylvania Engineering Works; vice president, Wm. Birmingham, Bell Telephone company; treasurer Joseph Rigby, Carnegie Steel company; secretary, L. M. Shields, Pennsylvania Power company; members of executive committee, John Crombie, American Sheet and Tin Plate Company, Roy Shira, Pittsburgh Limestone company and W. J. McCormick, Pennsylvania R. R. Company.
The election concluded the first year of the existence of the society which has grown from a membership of forty to one of 170 members all from New Castle and vicinity.

Hiccoughing Case Baffles Physicians
JEANNETTE, Pa., Dec. 10.—Jeanette physicians have a case of hiccoughs that is baffling their skill. Ten days ago John M. Kealey of North First street while at work suddenly developed a spell of hiccoughs. Since then he has been troubled almost incessantly. Doctors have tried every known remedy, but nothing so far tried has given relief for more than a few hours at a time.

Pinchot Silent On Conference

Governor-Elect Fails To Comment On Outcome
Of Conference With Leaders

MANY REQUESTS FOR INTERVIEWS

By ARTHUR DONEGAN
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 10.—Still silent on the result of two days' conferences with state senators from all sections of the state, Governor-Elect Gifford Pinchot left here for Pottsville this afternoon without indicating what plans, if any, the incoming administration has for organization of the next legislature.

The governor-elect, however, broke his silence on cabinet appointments to say:

"Many requests are coming in from various sources for interviews on the subject of appointments. I shall be glad to see my friends at any time I can on this or any other subject. But until certain immediate and highly important matters can be disposed of it will be impossible to take up the question of any position less than those of the cabinet itself."

"I ask my friends, therefore, to have patience. Those matters which are pressing must be handled first and for that reason conferences on many subjects will have to be postponed for a time."

Missing Hunter Returns Home, Is Very Much Hungry

(International News Service)
PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Dec. 10.—Missing for two nights and a day in the woods near here while on a deer hunt, Alvin Butterworth, 32, emerged from the woods near the Big Mahoning creek, hungry but otherwise unharmed, early today.

More than 100 state police and volunteer searchers were out looking for Butterworth at the time of his reappearance.

He said he had become lost following a buck which he had wounded but which got away. After wandering through the brush since Monday, Butterworth finally stumbled across Laurel Run and followed its course to near the Big Mahoning creek.

Confidence Gained By Steel Industry

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—Due to preponderantly favorable developments during the week, the Iron Age will say tomorrow in its weekly summary of the iron and steel trade, the industry has gained confidence and, although some further recession this month seems inevitable, there has been a gradual gain in demand for forward delivery, strengthening expectations of an upturn in production early next year.

The trend now seems to be definitely upward, this tendency having been given impetus by last week's advance of $1. a ton on plates shapes and bars for first quarter shipment. Rail contracting gives promise of getting under way and a large plate of the domestic tin plate contracting for the first half of 1931 has been completed. Pipe lines promise to give the mills renewed support and the automobile industry is buying more steel.

Composite prices of the Iron Age on finished steel at 2.12c, a lb. and on heavy melting scrap at 11.25 a ton have reached new 1930 lows while pig iron, unchanged at 16.02 a ton, is also at a 1930 low.

Rev. Joshua has had a colorful career and wide experiences and his sermon of Sunday evening will bring out the high lights.

Swick Asks For Big Addition At Aspinwall

Bill Introduced In House Tuesday Would Provide 250-Bed Addition

WOULD ALLEVIATE PRESENT CONDITION

Companion Measure Submitted In Senate At Same Time By Senator Reed

Steps were taken yesterday by Representative J. Howard Swick of the 26th congressional district yesterday to alleviate the present overcrowded condition existing in U. S. veterans' hospitals in Pennsylvania, when a bill was introduced providing for a 250-bed addition at Aspinwall.

The bill, which asks for an appropriation of $300,000, is a companion measure to one submitted in the senate at the same time by Senator David A. Reed.

Introduction of the measure in both houses will expedite action on the matter, as it will not be necessary to have either branch of congress wait for approval of the bill in the other house.

It is almost impossible to secure immediate hospitalization for veterans who are in need of treatment because of the greatly over-crowded condition now existing in all U. S. veterans hospitals.

Big Waiting List.
At the present time there is a waiting list of over 350 at the Pittsburgh regional office of the Veterans Bureau, and those men who are in need of immediate treatment must be taken to hospitals in their home community at their own expense.

The condition is growing worse as the days go by, although some slight relief will be afforded within a few days when approximately 40 more beds will be made available at Aspinwall by the removal of the kitchen and mess hall to their location in the new addition just completed at the hospital.

If the bill is approved immediately work could be started within a month or so, and the addition could be rushed to completion so that the additional beds provided could be available for use next fall.

Situation Acute.
The situation in western Pennsylvania has been made more acute during the past month or so by the cutting off of beds at Philadelphia and Washington to veterans from the local district.

Prior to that time men had been sent to the Walter Reed and U. S. Naval hospital in Washington and the U. S. Naval hospital in Philadelphia for treatment.

These institutions have become so crowded this fall that it is impossible to secure reservations for men from the local district, and as a result, the veterans in western Pennsylvania are practically unable to get into any hospital.

Some few cases are taken care of at Aspinwall and the Marine hospital in Pittsburgh, but they are far inadequate to take care of the situation.

Newton Falls, Ohio, Banker Is Jailed For Big Shortage

Shortage Of $88,000 Found In Bank By State Auditors—Audit Continues

(International News Service)
WARREN, O., Dec. 10.—Federal Reserve bank examiners today furthered their audit of the books of the First State bank of Newton Falls where a shortage of $88,000 already has been reported. Reese B. Jones, president of the institution, was held in Trumbull county jail here.

Belief was expressed this morning that the shortage may exceed $100,000. When the $88,000 deficit was reported, directors of the institution deposited the necessary funds to make up the shortage and announced they were prepared to cover any additional shortages within the limits anticipated by auditors.

Jones was said by officials to have admitted using $80,000 of the bank's funds during recent months to speculate in the stock market. He was quoted as saying that the money was not used in an attempt to increase his own funds but "to make money for the bank" on the stock exchange.

C. E. Piker was elected president of the bank to succeed Jones. Commenting on the situation, Piker said that Jones' investments were not made with the consent of the board of directors.

My Friends: Correct Your Eating Faults and Lose Your Fat With Kruschen Salts

Yes: I'm forty-five today—built like a race horse, my friends say—and I know I feel 10 years younger than I did three months ago—and I'd hate to tell you how much fat I lost with Kruschen.

I call Kruschen Salts the "magic salts" because when I was fat and wretched, despondent and half sick all the time—it took only one bottle that I bought for 85 cents at my druggists to live me up—put ambition and energy into me—make me feel years younger and with the help of a change of diet show me how to lose the fat I was so ashamed of.

Cut out pastries and desserts—go easy on potatoes, cream, cheese, fish, butter—eat lean meat, chicken, fish, vegetables and fruits and never fail to take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc. and every other drug store worthy of the name in the West sell Kruschen Salts—an 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—not much to pay for buoyant health.

Legionnaires Of State To Fight For Better Care

Increased Hospital Facilities Wanted By Pennsylvania Legion

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 10.—Pennsylvania American Legion executives will carry their fight for increased hospital facilities in the state before the house veterans committee in a special meeting on December 15.

The delegation, headed by State Commander Charles Engard of Philadelphia, returned home today after having presented the situation to the Pennsylvania delegation and to Frank T. Hines, federal administrator of veterans' affairs.

Commander Engard said Hines assured him he would not close out beds in the Grace Ferry road hospital in Philadelphia until preparations are made to care for all disabled men.

The Pennsylvania situation, according to Engard, will not be solved until more than $7,000,000 is spent for hospital facilities in the state.

The delegation invited Vice President Curtis to attend the state legion convention at Easton, Pa., next August. Curtis took the invitation under consideration.

Ambassador Clark Gives Viewpoints Regarding Mexico

Foreign Investors Should Not Look At Mexico
Through Microscope
Says Clark

Hopes To Maintain Same
Friendly Relations As Those Enjoyed By Morrow

By RICHARD C. WILSON
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

(Copyright, 1930, by International News Service.)
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10.—Foreign investors should look at Mexico through a telescope and not a microscope when considering the possibilities offered by the country's vast undeveloped resources, America's new ambassador to Mexico, J. Reuben Clark, told International News Service in an exclusive interview today.

The jovial, quiet-mannered successor to Dwight W. Morrow spoke from three years' experience at the United States embassy here as official advisor to Mr. Morrow. During that time he had ample time to study the possibilities of Mexico for commercial development while assembling data on Mexico's international problems for Mr. Morrow.

Risk Is Great.
"Like any country with undeveloped resources, the risk is greater for the investor but the potential profits also are greater," Ambassador Clark said. "The investor has no precedents to guide him. Therefore he must pave his own course in an undeveloped territory and expect to encounter innumerable problems."

"Some foreign investors coming into a country with the undeveloped resources of Mexico are inclined to look at the country through a microscope. This is not good policy. Mexico is developing and an investor must use a telescope and see ahead to appreciate the potentialities of his investment."

The greatest concern of the new ambassador, however, is in keeping on even keel the pleasant relations established by his predecessor. Recent figures of the United States department of commerce show that American investments in Mexico at the present time total $672,500,000. Ambassador Clark appreciates fully from his 26 years' experience with the state department at Washington that his present task is not to boom additional investments but to protect the interests of existing investments.

Relations Friendly.
Ambassador Clark begins his task at a time when relations between the United States and Mexico probably are at a more friendly pitch than they have ever been before. He played an important part in bringing about the present condition and it is his intention to carry on with the same tactics Mr. Morrow followed.

Although observers expect the atmosphere of the embassy to remain the same under Ambassador Clark, there is a striking contrast between the two men. Both men are possessors of kindly, friendly dispositions. However, unlike Mr. Morrow, Ambassador Clark is not a man of wealth and in his relations with fellow citizens is more like one of the "home folks."

He is one of the leaders of the Mormon church of Salt Lake City. As a Mormon he has always led a plain simple life. He does not smoke or drink, but has no prejudices against those who do. In banning liquor in the United States embassy he was not expressing his disapproval of those who drink but was only doing away with something he does not use personally.

Congress Is Scanned By Jenkins

Muscle Shoals Regarded As Most Important Legislation

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS

Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

The policies of the present session of congress will work themselves out as they go along, and it is idle to try to predict what will or will not get through the legislative mill before adjournment on March 4.

History shows that congressmen usually get together in a state of approaching friendliness, and with a good prospect of putting through necessary legislation without great difficulty. But at the end of the session, also harmony has generally yielded to discord and suspicion. Congressmen are snapping at each other, and are spending their time trying to put their opponents in a political hole.

It is, therefore, unsafe to prophesy what the present session will bring forth.

Fortunately, agricultural has this year little reason to worry over what the solons at Washington may or may not do. Farming is asking almost nothing. The urgent thing of course, is money for loans for seeds and fertilizers for farmers.

Next is the question of making available additional cash for the federal farm board. Under the marketing act the board was to have $500,000,000, and only half of this has been taken out. The board will ask for more, but how much of the second $250,000,000 remains to be seen. In any case, they get it, and get it without trouble.

Mr. E. H. Cunningham, the farm member on the Federal Reserve board, has just died and his successor must be approved by the senate. Probably there will be no difficulty over that.

The touchy subject is Muscle Shoals—which, by the way, should be spelled Mussel Shoals. The question of the disposition of this big government-built, white elephant dam and power plant has been deadlocked for 12 years.

A powerful group, whose leader is Senator Norris, of Nebraska, wants the power to be produced and distributed by the government. All the power interests of the country, as well as many neutrals who take no stock in government ownership of any sort, are opposed. A section of farm leadership wants part of the power used to produce artificial nitrogen for fertilizers. The fertilizer companies to a man are set against this. Many farm interests do not believe Muscle Shoals can produce the kind of nitrogen we want.

So there you are. It should be said that many people are so tired of the whole Muscle Shoals controversy that they would agree to almost anything to get it settled. For this reason, I am inclined to think that the prospect for government operation is now better than it has ever been. But we shall see.

Other important farm issues are lacking or will not be pushed. The export bounty plan will not be seriously pressed. Freedom for the Philippines will not figure. Transfer of the reclamation bureau from the department of the interior to the department of agriculture cannot get consideration at this session.

All in all, I believe that farming may regard the next ten weeks in Washington with somewhat less than ordinary concern.

And the whole history of civilization is revealed by these six words: "Wish I had a better car."—The Minneapolis Star.

Dr. Bissell Discusses Distribution Of Soup For Aid Of Needy Here

In an interview today Dr. Wayne W. Bissell, medical director of the Jameson Memorial hospital, urged that families who are short on food put aside any feeling of pride they may have and take advantage of the hospital's soup distribution. He also asks that the churches report any cases they discover. His statement follows:

"The mayor's committee is doing a splendid work in coordinating the various efforts and agencies of relief in the New Castle community. We feel that our community hospital should do all in its power to cooperate in this work.

Prevention of Sickness.

"With slack employment there is always a condition of under-nutrition and lowered resistance which predisposes to sickness. In such times the practice of preventive medicine is perhaps best conducted by wholesale distribution of one of nature's best remedies—good food. To withhold this good food remedy until hunger or even a state of starvation has developed is to defeat the entire purpose of prevention of sickness through maintaining normal nourishment of health. In starvation food becomes an agency of active treatment, while in normal nutrition food is the protector of health.

"As one of New Castle's great agencies of public health therefore, we feel that the Jameson Memorial hospital should be active in the wholesale distribution of the one remedy—food. Our community now needs to maintain our present state of general good health and restore that good health where short rations have threatened.

"Army experience of many of us showed the splendid value of rich hot soup. We called it 'slum' in the army. Good rich soup not only contains the elements of nutrition but it can be made and distributed in a wholesale way and at a tremendous saving of money, as compared with distribution of groceries. One dollar in good old army soup will do nearly 25 times as much feeding as one dollar in baskets of dry groceries.

"Through the assistance of the mayor's supply committee and through the assistance of some of New Castle's splendid big-hearted good fellows who prefer to remain anonymous, we have been provided with materials and equipment to prepare 50 to 75 gallons of soup every day. We are now making ready to deliver 150 gallons every day. At an average of eight liberal servings per gallon, 150 gallons will serve 1200 each day.

Pride is Unhealthy.

"Pride, in some instances—perhaps many—is holding many of our good families on short rations. There is no desire on the part of anyone interested in our present community relief work to deny anyone his right to pride. Good American personal pride is as much an American institution as free speech. Yet, carried to the point of denial of adequate nutrition, it becomes an ally of discouragement and broken health.

"Through the systematic effort of our churches, it is quite possible that many families may be discovered whose daily eating has been reduced to the point of endangering health. Pride is keeping these families from recognition. They are not destitute. There is no desire to place these families on public display. In fact, it is desirable that they be assisted without offense to their valued pride. A pint of soup for each person in such a family each day would be the difference between the health that comes of full nourishment and the lowered resistance, at least, that comes of only partial nourishment.

"Our churches alone can discover these families. Through the churches they should be assisted, and if our community hospital can assist the churches with its good soup, it will be functioning as a community hospital should function and as the man whose name it bears would have it function."

Stevensville To Build Big Pool

City Will Push Forward With Swimming Pool Project, To Aid Unemployed

(International News Service)
STEVENSVILLE, O., Dec. 10.—Speeding public works to provide employment, plans for the construction of a $26,000 swimming pool in Beatty Park, recently acquired by the city, had been announced today by the recreation board.

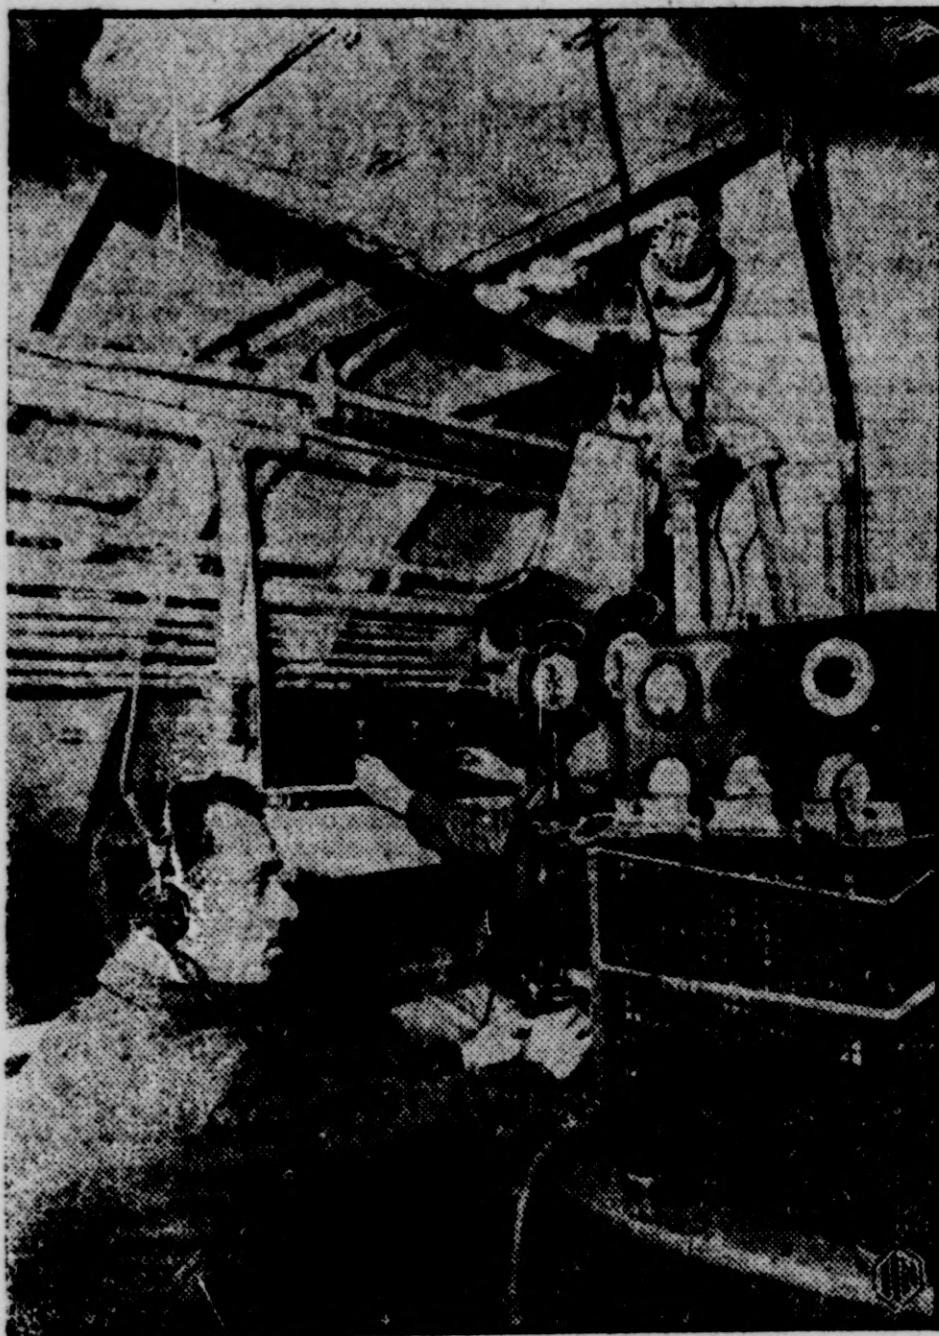

With this announcement came the report from Mayor Oliver Conley that $2,000 had been netted at a charity football game played here by former high school stars with St. Rosalie of Pittsburgh.

The funds will be turned over to the social service union and the Salvation Army for relief of the distressed.

Naval Officer Has New Theory How Fog Banks Were Poisoned

Poison Gas Drums Were Dropped
Into Sea Near Bordeaux, France

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—With scientists throughout the world delving in chemical lore to explain the "poison fog" that killed scores of persons in the Meuse Valley of Belgium, a former U. S. Naval ensign came forward today with new information that experts believe may develop into a solution of the mysterious deaths.

Maurice B. Cahill, an ensign during the war on the auxiliary ship "Louella," said that while hostilities were on, his ship carried ammunition from America to the allied nations.

After the armistice, Cahill said, the "Louella" was ordered to Basens on the Garonne River, near Bordeaux, to dispose of a huge quantity of poison gas. The gas drums were loaded onto the boat by German prisoners and the drums were taken out to sea near Bordeaux and thousands of drums dumped overboard.

Chemical experts here were said to believe it possible for the salt water to have so affected the gas drums that the gas was released in the Bordeaux sector and reached the Belgian coast, poisoning the fog.

KOPPEL

AMERICAN LEGION

Last year the J. Harvey Marshall Post No. 634 of Koppel brought Christmas cheer to many needy families by distributing baskets of food. This year even more elaborate plans have been made by the Koppel Post to provide food, clothing and fuel to all destitute families in this vicinity.

In order to raise the necessary funds collection boxes will be placed in all local stores and it is hoped that everyone will contribute liberally to this splendid work. Members of the Post will be asked to give various articles of food, particularly canned goods and for this purpose each one will receive a special bag which they are to fill and return to the Welfare Committee by a fixed date.

Anyone knowing of families needing help are urged to turn in the names to Mr. Richard Gasser, chairman of the Welfare Committee as early as possible and a careful investigation will be made in each case.

The American Legion Post will also have a Christmas tree again this year and a committee has been appointed with L. H. Hennig as chairman to arrange for some kind of a treat for the kiddies.

Coal Industry Is On Upward Trend

Robert M. Lambie, Retiring President of Coal Institute, Makes Statement

Warns Coal Men To Avoid Peak Business—Favors Steady Production

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—Tingling an optimistic statement that the coal industry is showing a distinct upward trend with the warning that peak business should be carefully avoided, Robert M. Lambie, chief of the West Virginia department of mines, made his farewell address as president of the Coal Mining Institute of America at the Institute's opening session here today.

J. W. Paul, of Pittsburgh, attached to the local U. S. Bureau of Mines, was elected president to succeed Lambie today. Other officers announced were: F. B. Dunbar, J. J. Forbes and E. A. Holbrook, all of Pittsburgh, vice presidents and George W. Grove, Pittsburgh, secretary-treasurer. Managing directors elected were F. E. Bedale, of Fairmont, W. Va.; Matthew Blair, California, Pa.; C. W. Gibbs, of Harwick, Pa.; Silas E. Hall, Brownsville, Pa.; Richard Maize, Uniontown, Pa.; C. W. Pollock, Curtisville, Pa.; John Ira Thomas, Harrisburg, Pa.; and George S. McCas, W. N. Riggs and L. E. Young, Pittsburgh.

"There is no question but that the industry is on the upward trend," Lambie told the delegates. "But any peak is to be avoided. Steady production is the most desired, for the irregular operation of a mine is costly. This operation increases the hazards of mining, too."

"In our state, (West Virginia) production is off 8,000,000 tons but we expect to regain it during the next year."

Rush Hessler, of Harrisburg, led a question box session of discussions this afternoon. Motion pictures of underground and surface operations were shown.

Hear Testimony On Proposal For Gas At Bessemer

Public Service Commission Hears Facts At Hearing In Pittsburgh

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Dec. 10.—Testimony concerning the financial condition of the Bessemer Natural Gas Company was given today before the public service commission at a hearing on the application by the company for permission to organize and operate in Hillsville, Mahoning township, Lawrence county.

Counsel for the Bessemer Company testified before Commissioner Ray Shelby that it proposed to operate four gas wells in the vicinity of Hillsville to supply residents of that section with natural gas.

It was testified before the commission that the company had been incorporated with a capitalization of $15,000 which the officers and stockholders believed sufficient to carry out the operations.

Officials of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company, who last week demanded a postponement of the hearing because of insufficient notice, testified that they maintained gas lines within two miles of the Hillsville section. Counsel for the Manufacturers Company indicated no formal protests would be lodged against operation by the Bessemer Natural Gas Company.

Mother's Office Is the Kitchen

Her Desk, the Kitchen Sink

Keeping house is a business, a complicated, nerve-trying, energy-sapping business. It has its own methods and system and equipment, just as all businesses have.

The center from which Mother's work radiates is the kitchen sink. For that very reason it should be an efficient, labor-saving aid.

Today's most approved type is the one-piece sink, preferably with twin drainboards. It has a wall saving splash-back. It is graceful, a true beauty spot in the kitchen, and easy to keep spotlessly clean. A combination mixing faucet for supplying tempered running water is the last touch of convenience.

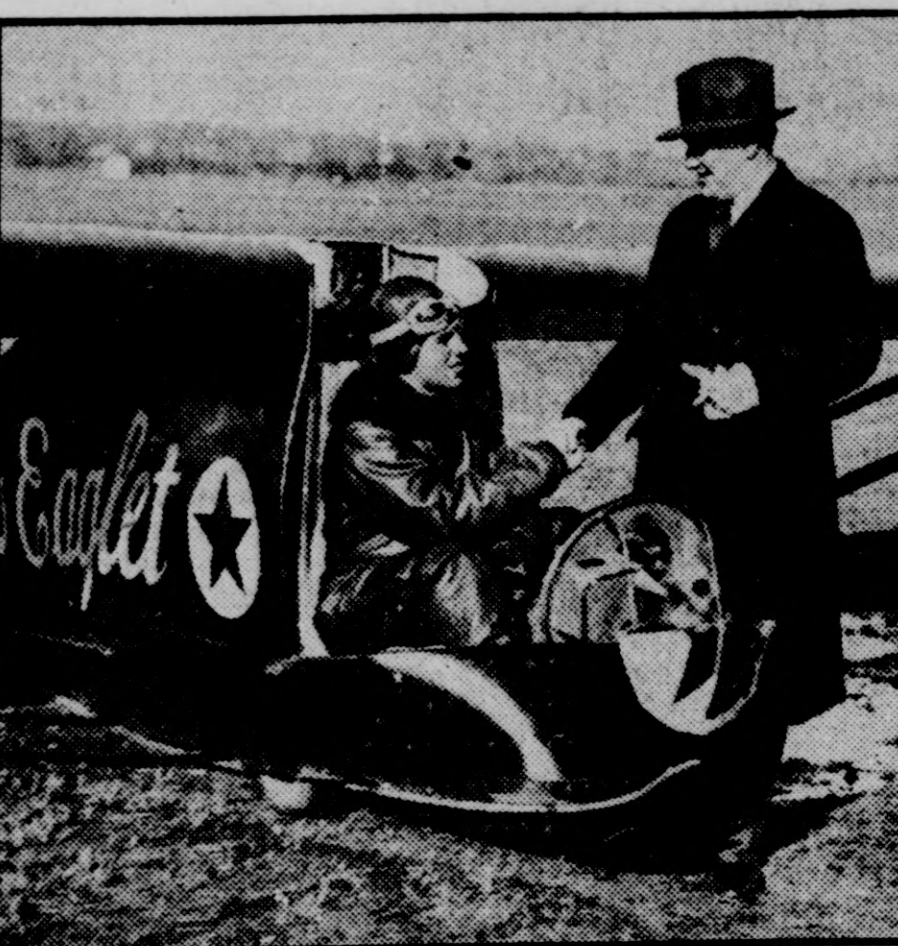

To visit our show room and see these modern sinks is to understand why every woman appreciates and wants one. Let us tell you how economically WE can install one in your home.

Says Overspeculation Cause Of Depression

Illinois Manufacturers Told Business Will Pick Up Shortly, By Canadians

Arthur Brisbane, Famous Columnist, Sees Early Return To Normal Conditions

(International News Service) CHICAGO, Dec. 10.—Predictions by internationally known speakers of an early revival of normal trade were left with 1,400 Illinois manufacturers and their guests today following the thirty-third annual dinner of organization.

Henry Ford, one of the guests at the banquet, was presented with a gold medal in honor of his contributions to industry and civilization. The speakers included Edward Wentworth Beatty, president and chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway, Arthur Brisbane, eminent New York editor, and B. C. Forbes, financial critic.

"Canadians as a whole regard these conditions as not representing anything in the way of permanent or even long spread depression," said Beatty. "We believe that a gradual recovery already noticed will follow the results of the overspeculation of previous years."

In speaking of present business conditions Mr. Brisbane pointed out that a few years ago intellectual people started to kill one another. They succeeded, he said, in slaughtering millions of men and wasting billions of dollars in wealth.

"Speculators thought they wouldn't have to pay the cost of this," he said, "but now they are paying. I think in the future what this country should do would be to avoid mistakes. I think we ought to keep out of complications. If we want a league of nations let us have one with Mexico and Canada."

Moonshine Outfit Carried Into Court

Alleged That Plant Was Being Operated By Nick Paolini Of Wayne Township

Nick Paolini of Wayne township was placed on trial before Judge R. L. Hildebrand this morning on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Evidence was produced before the jury in the shape of a big copper still, a garbage can full of utensils and a keg containing eight gallons of moonshine.

County Detective Lee told about securing the distilling outfit in a house near the residence of Paolini. In addition to the finished product Lee, and the other officers who made the raid, found 500 gallons of mash. There was every evidence that the plant had been operating on a large scale. The case is still on trial.

Brakeman Killed As Trains Crash

Two Others Injured, Result Of Freight Train Wreck On New York Central

(International News Service) NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—John Woodward, of Albany, a brakeman, was killed early today and two other men were injured in a rear end collision of New York Central freight trains on the Shore Line of the Hudson river.

Sherman Stall, 49, of Chatham, N. Y., and Isidor Stebbins, 30, of Capitall Falls, N. Y., were the two men who were injured. The accident wrecked an engine and four loaded freight cars.

The accident is believed to have been caused by the second train's momentum which prevented it from stopping when the first stopped for signals.

No Progress Made During Conference

Legal Barriers Hold Up County's Plan Of Employment, Report Says

Stanley Treser, city councilman, accompanied by the city solicitor Robert White conferred yesterday with County Commissioner T. J. McCullough and the commissioner's attorney, J. P. Lockhart, relative to a proposal that the county join in the campaign to put men now unemployed to work.

According to reports following the conference, little, if any progress had been made owing to legal barriers. During the conference it developed the county is prohibited from building roads.

The county's attorney, Lockhart, is giving considerable study to various legal phases connected with the proposal to put men to work and it may be that he may discover some way by which this can come about.

Solicitor White today said that one of the topics discussed was the construction of a retaining wall along Neshannock creek. He said the boulders which impeded the water flow could be removed and used as material in the wall.

Several days ago a report was made that the county had tentatively agreed to appropriate a considerable sum of work to be done in the city if it could be arranged legally.

When apprised that the county commissioners desired to talk over a city-county program, Councilman Treser and Solicitor White immediately went into conference but yesterday no definite move was taken by the county.

Pinchot To Speak Before Grangers

Governor-Elect Pinchot Will Deliver Principal Speech
At Sessions Today

BUSINESS GRIND TO START TODAY

(International News Service)
POTTSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 10.—It's only public session out of the way, the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Grange settled down to the grind of business today, with 1100 delegates slated to attend three sessions to dispose of resolutions, elections and other matters before them.

Listed as a "meeting of good fellowship and recreation" the public session of the Grange was held last night, with state master E. B. Dorsett, of Mansfield, the principal speaker.

Dorsett endorsed the plan of government-elect Pinchot to have the state take over 20,000 miles of township for state construction and maintenance, declaring it would be a great step toward "getting the farmer out of the mud."

The state master also urged Congress to pass constructive legislation and urged it to take all power land and mountain sections out of profitless cultivation, devoting them to timber raising.

Co-operation with dry organizations in support of law enforcement was also urged by Dorsett.

Governor-elect Pinchot, a member of the Grange, will deliver the principal address of today's sessions. He was to have appeared yesterday but was unable to come here because of previous arrangements for conferences with legislators in Harrisburg.

Officer Will Tell Story Of His Army Life

Interesting Affair Being Planned At Local Recruiting Station

Sergeant J. W. Thompson, officer in charge of the army recruiting station, room 303 St. Cloud Building, is planning something different in the proposition of showing the benefits of the army service.

He has secured the promise of Major J. Lindenstruth, retired, the officer in charge of the army recruiting service in the Pittsburgh area, to come to this city some night next week and tell the story of his army experience to a group of local people, who might be interested in hearing what army life had meant to him.

Major Lindenstruth was in active service for thirty-five years and rose from the rank of private to that of major through his own efforts. He saw service in many parts of the world and was in active service during the World War.

If Sergeant Thompson finds a sufficient number of interested persons desiring to hear an interesting story of this character, he will arrange to have Major Lindenstruth come here next week and make the address.

Lions Will Fete Blind Folk At Church Party December 22

A Christmas party for the Lawrence county blind, the first such affair to be staged here, will be provided by the Lions club of the city on Monday evening, December 22, probably in the dining room of the First Christian church.

Tentative arrangements for the affair were considered at the club membership's weekly luncheon meeting in the Elks home yesterday. President Earle T. Ramsey explained that the Lions and their ladies will be expected to attend that evening.

The role of general chairman for the program was given to W. O. Williams, with the Rev. G. S. Bennett, Earl Book, B. K. Thacker, W. Anson McKee and Jesse H. Gibson as his chief assistants. There will be a dinner, with entertainment following.

President Ramsey said that probably 30 or more blind folks whom the club cares for during the year will be present as guests.

Featuring the noon-day meeting Tuesday were the stories which members of the club told regarding their recent trips to the woods. Speaking were Dr. B. M. Rogers, Dr. Jay L. Reed and Dr. T. M. Shaffer.

Special entertainment was furnished in the recitations which six-year-old Betty Cope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Cope, Cunningham avenue, gave. Miss Cope, a talented reader for her age, recited "Ma and Pa Are Methodists" and "Buddy Discusses Cleanliness."

Lion Arthur Rees brought her as his guest.

Experts Fail To Agree On Findings Of Tests In Diet Experiments

Scientists Find Harmful (Or Good) What They Set Out
To Find, Dr. Clendening Concludes

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
IN THE article called "Dietary Facts, Fads and Fancies," in an authoritative medical journal, the author discusses the theories of the effect of meat and other protein foods on diseases of the kidneys and heart and blood pressure.

For test purposes animals have been fed on protein for long periods and then dissected to see if any kidney disease had developed. Or if any degenerative disease of the blood vessels or heart developed. The trouble is the observations do not agree. Seven different sets of scientists have found kidney disease after prolonged protein feeding. But six sets of equally eminent investigators fed the same kinds of animals the same kind of protein food for the same lengths of time and found no kidney disease or arterial degeneration as a result. "The subject," says my author, "is still open to speculation."

"In every affair of human life," to quote a Victorian moralist, "those who look for the good will see the good, and those who look for the evil will see the evil."

Or, in other words, if a fellow starts out to find kidney disease after eating meat he will find it. And if he is convinced beforehand that no disease is there he will overlook it.

In 1930 two investigators fed a healthy man on 3 grams of beef muscle and liver daily for six months. His blood pressure did not change. He developed changes in the urine consisting of albumin and an increase in the normal number of casts. But as the author I am quoting points out, this does not mean Bright's disease. Albumin and casts develop under many conditions—an ordinary tonsillitis will bring them on. Ten days after the man under observation discontinued the diet he was entirely normal. "Nature has fort nately endowed the human body with a large reserve of kidney function."

QUESTIONS FROM READERS
E. G.: "Will you advise where fuller information can be obtained as to the caloric content of more foods than are given in the casual tables we read?"
Answer: The United States government has published a monograph called "The Chemical Composition of American Food Materials" Bulletin 28, revised edition. It can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C.

P. R. S., New York: "Who are the best diet experts in America?"
Answer: There are a great many good ones. The "best" ones would be a matter of personal opinion. However, it would probably be fair to say that among the most distinguished there would be included by general agreement Dr. Graham Lush of New York, Dr. E. V. McCollum of Baltimore, Dr. H. C. Sherman of New York, Dr. J. S. McClester of Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. Elliot Joslin of Boston, Dr. R. T. Woodruff of Chicago, and Dr. W. M. Marriott of St. Louis.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Four pamphlets by Doctor Clendening can now be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin, for each, and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 East Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlets are "Infant Feeding," "Reducing and Gaining," "Instructions on the Treatment of Diabetes," and "Hygiene of Women."

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Jean Norris, Tammany Town's only female magistrate, in an interview the other day admitted that for years she had judged vice cases in the women's court, without knowing of the existence of stool pigeons.

With the district attorney "astonished" at racketeering, the police commissioner "astonished" at the revelations about some of his vice squad men, and most of the editors in town flabbergasted at what every police reporter has known for years—why blame poor Jean Norris?

THEATRE PESTS
New York theatre managers are at a loss to know how to handle well-dressed rowdies who, as a rule, arrive at the playhouse in groups of four to eight, long after the curtain has gone up on the first act, and chatter, guffaw and giggle, oblivious of their surroundings.

The male members of these parties creak in obtrusive evening attire. And despite the well-intentioned efforts of modiste, hair-dresser and complexion coxer, the female members, reeking of gin, cheap cigarettes and expensive perfume, present and raw and raucous front with which tradition invests the Sisterhood of the Solled.

GREATEST OF VICES
Before the advent of the bootlegger in the American scheme of things, men and women of the well-dressed rowdy type were practically unknown. We've always had the blatant rich, but their excesses were marked by none of the hysterical mania stations that today characterize the breed.

Money sticks out all over these people—money strangely achieved. They bulge money, as bunions bulge old men's shoes.

They seem never to have been able to master their initial astonishment at the fact that they really were rich. Cursed with this permanent surprise, and finding all other outlets inadequate, they apparently decided to give full sway to vulgarity—the greatest of vices since it is the combination of so many small ones.

THE DIFFICULT PART
As Mr. Dooley used to say, first you have to get the money; after that you have to look as if you have it. Then comes the hardest part: Looking as if the money really belongs to you.

EACH IN ITS PLACE
At the theatre the other evening I extracted from the program a loose-leaf for the unemployed.

Helping the unemployed is a noble endeavor; but a theatre program is hardly the place to make the appeal. And that goes for all charity schemes.

We attend the theatre in quest of recreation—to get away from the difficulties and problems of every-

Nursing Class Holds Meeting

BELLE GETS PULLED
The Volstead Vigilantes pinched my old friend Belle Livingston the other day.

"I had my salon and a tooth pulled the same day," remarked Belle, "but I don't think any pull is going to get me out of this."

Whereupon the High Priestess of the Wild Oats Casino laughed a merry, rippling laugh at her own bon mot.

BUYING MORE BUT SPENDING LESS

Even when money is scarce and everybody is trying to stretch incomes as far as possible A&P stores are crowded just like this.

More people are buying food in A&P stores today than ever before. Old customers are paying less for what they buy than they paid last year. And new customers are getting more for what they pay.

The ranks of A&P customers go right on growing in bad times as well as in good, because the public likes to get full value for its money.

Money goes far in A&P stores—not fast.

SILVERTONE

the Newest in Radio

As outstanding as Christmas among the year's holidays is tone control among the year's achievements in radio research. And in Silvertone tone control has made its nearest approach to perfection. Silvertone Control—unlike other tone control systems—does not beg the question by muffling high notes in order to make the bass seem stronger. Instead it actually accentuates the low notes and brings out bass harmonies that would otherwise be lost. Every tone value broadcast with the music is projected accurately through the Silvertone. The striking Queen Anne highboy console gives added emphasis to its attractiveness as a welcome Christmas present.

College Sorority Rushing Is Advanced To Next Week

Pledging, Originally Planned For Second Semester, Starts Dec. 18

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Dec. 10.—The rushing season for sororities at Westminster College, originally planned for the latter part of the second semester, started last week and will culminate in pledging of freshman girls next Thursday, December 18.

Following recommendations by the Pan Hellenic council representing the seven sororities: Alpha Gamma Delta, Sigma Kappa, Pi Rho Phi, Chi Omega, Phi Delta Chi, Kappa Alpha Alpha, and Omicron Mu Delta, the faculty of the college appointed a committee composed of Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, Miss Elizabeth Stewart, and Mrs. C. B. Robertson, to study the recommendations. The college faculty subsequently voted favorably on the change in rushing season plans and dates.

The new regulations, applicable for this year only, are:

1. Rushing shall begin on Friday, December 5, and continue until the silent period. Silent period begins at noon, Wednesday, December 17, and continues until noon, Thursday, December 18.

2. There shall be no calling at freshman houses during study hours. Rushing is permitted between classes but not during class hours. It is also permitted from 12 noon until 2, and from 4:30 to 7:30.

3. Rushing events shall be limited to one social function, which is defined as a closed sorority function with freshmen. The expense of the function is not to exceed $15. No gifts or donations from patronesses, alumni, alumnae, active members or anyone are permitted; but all refreshments, entertainment, decorations, and invitations must be covered by the $15. All functions must be within the limits of New Wilmington.

4. Closed bidding shall be the form of invitation used. Some disinterested person shall have charge.

5. No sorority shall later tell a girl whether they gave her a bid to said sorority.

6. The quota of the sorority is to be 25 members, and the seniors are to be counted.

7. The seniors of the inter-sorority council shall be free members during the silent period. A free member shall not go to the room of any freshman on any reason whatsoever, but may answer any question a freshman may ask.

8. No freshman girls, except legacies whose sisters are in school, shall stay overnight with a sorority girl. Nor shall any sorority girl stay with a freshman girl.

9. Feeding of freshmen is prohibited except when they come unexpectedly, uninvited into the room, and then they shall be offered the courtesies extended to any girl. Sorority members are not permitted to treat freshmen.

10. During the silent period, no sorority alumnae shall talk to freshmen girls.

The senior members of the Pan-Hellenic council are: Kathryn Johnston, Bellefonte; Lois Davenport, New Wilmington; Matilda Baldrige, McKeesport; Virginia Duff, New Castle; Mary Lou Braham, Butler; Ruth Bovard, Sharon; and Elizabeth Pollock, Waterford.

"Rushing" is interpreted among college fraternities and sororities as paying particular attention to freshmen whom the organization desires for membership. "Pledging" is the actual acceptance of election to membership on the part of the freshman.

Because of the shift in dates, sororities will now rush and pledge their new members before the Christmas recess which starts Friday, December 19.

There's some good in everything. Think what a fix the talkies would be in if people had anything else to do.

Christmas Party For Dinner Club

Expect Large Crowd At Consistory Dinner Meeting Friday Night

Many out of town visitors will be present at the Consistory Dinner Club party at the Cathedral Friday evening and from all indications one of the largest crowds of the season will be on hand to enjoy the affair.

General Chairman Wm. J. Mofatt has selected John M. Wallace of Boyles avenue as chairman of the Reception Committee, who together with the other members of his committee will give the visitors a warm welcome.

It being the Christmas party every effort is being put forth to make it a gala affair. The entertainment which follows the dinner promises to be an outstanding event as G. Verne Atherton of Sharon who heads the Entertainment Committee has scoured that district for talent and is greatly elated over his success. His program will be in keeping with other events held by the Dinner Club. In fact he expects to surpass those held in the past and will give future Committees something to shoot at.

Word has been received that a large crowd from Sharon will be here for the party. There will also be a large number here from Franklin, Beaver Falls and Meadville. Abner Shaw and a crowd from Apollo and Vandegrift will be in attendance and another large crowd from Butler and Grove City. Unless bad weather interferes the party will be the largest held for sometime. After the entertainment cards will be indulged in as well as dancing. Prizes will be awarded for the best Bridge players as well as for 500.

The Reception Committee is composed of John M. Wallace, chairman; R. M. Campbell, W. Stan Treser, T. W. Dickey, Howard B. Richards, W. O. Williams, Albert B. Street, Howell T. Getty, Dr. John McConahy, Jacob F. Rentz, Frank W. Wallace, and Chas. F. Morrow. Reservations for the affair should be in the hands of the committee not later than Wednesday if possible.

THE THIEF IS LURED BY GLITTERING GEMS

*Millions in Jewels Stolen Every Year
---Evidence Points to Master Mind
Which Plans the Major Crimes*

Island, during a reception for the Prince of Wales. Some of the jewels belonged to Lady Mountbatten, a member of the Prince's party, who was staying at the Cosden home. Lady Mountbatten is the granddaughter of the late Sir Ernest Cassel, who at one time owned most of the diamond fields in the world.

Missed a Million Dollars.

The robbery was perpetrated in spite of the fact that the Prince and his party were surrounded by lines of detectives and Scotland Yard operatives, and that it was virtually impossible for a stranger to enter the Cosden home that night. Either the thief was frightened away before he completed his job or he did not know the treasure mine that lay under his hand, for he missed the famous Cosden jewel collection, valued at one million dollars, and also many perfect gems given to Lady Mountbatten by her grandfather. The jewelry, since the work could have been scarcely anything but an inside job. The Cosden case recalls the theft of jewels valued at $175,000 from the Radnor home of George McFadden, millionaire cotton broker, of Philadelphia, sometime in 1921. The jewels, mostly pearls, were left in Mrs. McFadden's dressing room, which was accessible only through her bedroom. They were on the dressing table one night and gone the next morning. A French maid and a governess were brought to trial for the supposed statement that Mrs. McFadden had stole her own jewels, but the case was finally dropped. The jewels were never recovered.

The biggest jewel robbery of recent years was committed when ten bandits held up a custom mail clerk at Hudson and Twelfth streets, New York, held off spectators with sawed-off shotguns, slugged the guard, kidnapped the driver and got away with $500,000 worth of assorted stones being imported for a group of New York jewelers. The thieves forced the driver of the car to guide the machine out of the city limits, then they threw him out and got away.

The first appearance of motor bandits in England occurred when a $40,000 pearl necklace was stolen from the jewelry store of Harman & Co., London. Five "bobbies" watched the thieves rush from the store and enter a waiting automobile, but made no move to stop them. The method of escape by automobile in broad daylight was so new that the bobbies didn't suspect a crime had been committed under their noses.

"Servants" Often Guilty.

There are numerous cases on record where servants in private homes or hotels have been the perpetrators of jewel robberies from employers. One of the cleverest of such thefts was managed by Helen Golden while she was a maid at the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City last Summer. Helen had a large share in robbing Morris Abrams of $80,000 worth of jewels valued at $150,000. Mrs. Abrams while Mr. Abrams was a guest at the hotel. To throw detectives and police off the track the maid left the hotel clad only in a one-piece bathing suit ostensibly to take a bath in the ocean. She never reappeared and it was reported that she had drowned.

Another similar robbery took place at the Ambassador Hotel in New York and the police finally landed Helen, who confessed she was the Jewel Thief Always Desperate.

A jewel thief is one of the most desperate of criminals. He plays for big stakes and plays to win. There is something in the wicked glitter of the gems that lures him to take great chances and to let nothing stand in the way of his goal. He will shoot to kill, he will drug or beat his victim into unconsciousness, if only he can clasp in his hand the priceless trinket he covets.

The French Crown Jewels.

The great value of stones and the ease with which they may be concealed have led all the master crooks of the ages to try their skill at the game. Money equivalent to the worth of a jewel may be a bulky package, but a necklace or a pendant can be crumpled in the hand or dropped in a pocket without attracting notice. Besides, there is the ever-present lure of the jewels themselves, which acts like a spell on many criminals.

Paris was the scene of what is possibly the world's most astounding and mysterious jewel robbery. To this day it remains unsolved and it happened in 1792. The occasion was the theft of a large collection of valuable gems, including many of the crown jewels of France, from a chamber of a treasury called the Garde Meuble, which was closely guarded day and night.

The jewel robberies of the twentieth century are so numerous they fail to create a sensation unless thousands of dollars are involved. No wonder women are leaving their precious stones in the vaults of banks while they wear paste copies to outwit the thieves. If there is a master mind directing the big robberies there will be no peace among the owners of precious stones until he—or could it be a she?—is apprehended.

Is a master mind directing the jewel robberies that have been occurring with such startling frequency? If so, who is the possessor of this mind of criminal brilliancy?

The question is puzzling police and detectives and special agents of insurance companies throughout the country. Also it is the cause for anxiety among all owners of valuable collections of jewels.

Whether one or many individuals have planned the recent robberies, each crime seems to be more daring than the last. Society received a great shock when it became known that $250,000 worth of jewels had been stolen from the home of Mrs. Joshua Cosden at Sands Point, Long Island, during a reception for the Prince of Wales. Some of the jewels belonged to Lady Mountbatten, a member of the Prince's party, who was staying at the Cosden home. Lady Mountbatten is the granddaughter of the late Sir Ernest Cassel, who at one time owned most of the diamond fields in the world.

SIDE SLANTS AT SLANG SLINGERS

THE best you can say for slang is that it keeps away old maiden ladies, authors of serious books and members of the league for the improvement of the English language. Long live the dear jargon!

As it is now, a poor, untutored stranger appears at our gates and is at once in a fog, as far as conversation goes. You can picture to yourself the plight of the visitor to these shores who boards a street car and sits next to a couple of the country's wage-earners whose hair and brains are bobbed.

"Well, I said to the poor cup custard, 'If you aren't the pie's cherries.'" You gallop around here in your number elevens and expect me to scuff the sofa all evening, after I lapped you at the movies last night with that dearie in the pink outfit. Come on, give up the eagle and we'll go see Pola in "Almost Virgins."

A "dewdrop" is a bed which doesn't rise from his head until 1 p. m. "Crasher" is one who gets into some big, exclusive affair without an invitation. "Dumbbell," masculine, and "dumbdora," feminine, mean one who is a little short on ordinary common sense.

A "college" (pronounced col-leege, with the accent on the last syllable) means a young man who dresses in the collegiate fashion of the day, which consists chiefly of about ten yards of cloth made into a pair of wide trousers, about 24 inches at the cuffs, so that with a slight eye-strain one can, if he look at the pedal extremities, see just about the tip of the fashion-plate's shoe. To "ankle" along merely means for you to keep walking, while if you should hear somebody on the street utter the words "lace curtains" look around to see if there is anybody in the immediate vicinity sporting whiskers. The boss is known as a "Simon Legree," and a young man's pedal extremities are known as a "pair of dogs."

If a girl says she is about to "nick the old boy for a peck and a half," or "a hundred and fifty iron men," or "simoleons," or to use an earlier expression, "cart-wheels," it merely means that she is about to ask papa for one hundred and fifty dollars. To "breeze" into any place means to walk in.

Expressions Do Not Last Long.

It would be impossible for anyone to enumerate all of the slang expressions in use today; in fact, it would be useless. Those mentioned above are some that have stood the test of time. There were others coined at the same time, and still many more coined at a later date. Tomorrow there will be many more, while next week will see the passing of some that were thought of as being the best of the day.

But the flapper and the cake eater, and the public in general, are as fickle about their slang expressions as they are about everything else. They want the new things—the new words—the new slang expressions—besides fashions, and it's up to somebody to get them.

Slang expressions catch on in the funniest way. For instance, several days ago a young man had an argument with his sister. He thought she was interfering, and during the heated words he called her a "Japanese upriser." These words may be in use all over the country within a few days. Somebody hears or reads them, and before one knows it they are common property, for one to do with as he sees fit.

The "Brown Derby."

And what is the origin of these slang expressions? Who are the people that make them? Are they the butchers, the bakers and candlestick makers of every-day life, or are they a class of individuals who get paid good money for doping out words that mean nothing, and yet have some meaning? It's easy to see that the former are not responsible for much slang. True, they are responsible for making them popular, but the latter class gets the honor, or to use a slang expression, the "brown derby," or we might say the "hot apple," for doping out slangy words.

Vaudeville actors and newspaper cartoonists are great slang makers. Yes, slang is another thing some of the reformers can blame on the theaters and the newspapers. Some of the men in these jobs like to think up slang words and pass them on to an ever-waiting and hopeful public, who take them for what they are worth, and nothing more.

Take the expression, "wise crack," or as some say, "wise cracker." Here's a word that is used in every corner of the United States. It was

"Well, I said to the poor cup custard, 'If you aren't the pie's cherries.'" coined by Chic Sale, a vaudeville actor. If you can't "wise crack" you may as well take a back seat. In some circles, the words "wise crack" almost means fight, for it has a contemptuous meaning, to be compared with the sarcastically uttered expression, "You think you're funny, don't you?"

Who Makes the Slang?

Chic Sale can use a slang expression in New York, or in some little town out West, and before the day has passed the expression, if it be a catchy one, will be heard all over the country.

Then there are some jobs that virtually nobody hears of, yet which pay from $10,000 to $20,000 a year. The holders of these jobs are known as "gag men," and it is their work to keep an open ear for slang expressions, that can be adapted to stage use. For instance, one of these men visits a dance hall, and during the evening picks up a few slang expressions as turned out by the intelligentsia of Second avenue, New York. They keep these expressions until some play or vaudeville skit comes into their office that needs "jazzing up." Besides inserting a slang expression into a play here and there, these men give vaudeville and musical comedy comedians a gag or two to be interpolated in their regular line of chatter.

One man who has made quite a

name for himself is Tommy Gray, a young man, good-looking enough to be a stage hero, and dignified enough to stand before the bar and plead somebody's case. He used to provide gags for the stage, now he is doing it for the movies and making more than $20,000.

You can explain to a Londoner for three hours why your girl is the cat's pajamas and at the end of the time he will say, "But, my dear sir, the pussy has no pajamas."

At first thought the average person, not versed in slang, will fail to comprehend the real meaning of the expressions above, but with a little thought he will immediately understand them.

Learn something beautiful, see something beautiful,
Do something beautiful each day of your life.

Million Stamps For Yule Mailing Here

Christmas gift mailers here will have plenty of sticking to do before they exhaust the near-million postage stamp supply now ready for holiday sale at the post office. Getting down to figures, exactly 940,000 stamps have been received. By far the greatest number are of the two-cent denomination—there's 800,000 of that kind. Besides there are 10,000 ten-cent special delivery stickers and the following supply of other different denominations.

Three-cent stamps, 10,000; four-cent, 10,000; five-cent, 20,000; six-cent, 10,000; seven-cent, 10,000; eight-cent, 10,000; nine-cent, 10,000; ten-cent ordinary, 20,000; twelve-cent, 10,000; fifteen-cent, 10,000, and 10,000 twenty-cent stamps.

The order, Postmaster Edwin Crawford said, compares the same with the amount requisitioned last Christmas. The supply, while partly serving for October and November, is used up mostly during the pre-Christmas rush.

Heflin Proposes Post Offices In Small Villages

All Places With Receipts Of $4,000 Annually Would Get Building

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington Correspondent of the New Castle News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 10.—All cities in Pennsylvania and throughout the country with postal receipts of at least $4,000 annually would be eligible to be awarded new postoffices under a measure introduced by Senator J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama as a Thomas Heflin bill.

Senator Heflin believes that the passage of such a measure would do much to relieve unemployment at the present time and would also tend to save the government considerable money in the long run by doing away with the necessity of paying rents.

The Alabama senator's bill, of course, would have no application for cities coming under its classification which have but recently been given new postoffices or additions or are otherwise adequately supplied with postal facilities.

Y. P. C. U. To Meet At Silver Bay

Word has just been received by Tom Sarver of Sharon, president of the Mercer Presbyterian Young People's Christian Union of the United Presbyterian Church, that the invitation of Mercer Presbytery to hold the 1932 National Y. P. C. U. convention at Conneaut Lake Park has been rejected.

There were three sites proposed for the convention: Lakeside, near Cleveland, O., on Lake Erie; Silver Bay in Eastern New York, and Conneaut Lake. The invitation of Delaware Presbytery to hold the convention at Silver Bay was the one accepted.

The local Presbytery had been eagerly working to bring the convention to Conneaut and it was a keen disappointment to have their invitation rejected.

Musical Program Scores Hit,
And Mrs. Catherine
Charles Told Fascinating Leg-ends

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 10.—The annual Christmas meeting of the Ellwood City Women's club, took place Tuesday afternoon in the Elks club, and the business session merged into a social program-tea with such artistry, that the entire meeting seemed one of pleasant sociability.

The members of the program committee, headed by Mrs. Lillian Thomas are to be congratulated upon the pleasing club talent secured for the event. At the close of the business meeting, the assemblage sang old Christmas songs from books provided. Then followed a group of Christmas songs "Behold I Bring you Glad Tidings," "The Chimes" and "Silent Night" by Mrs. Adele Rogers-Furness. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Roland Haines, with Mrs. John Hough contributing a violin obbligato. The trio formed a most pleasing combination to hear, and added greatly to the success of the meeting. In a piano selection "Dance Espagnol" by Mockowsky, Mrs. Haines delivered unsparingly into her wealth of musical experience and produced a brilliant bit of music that left no key on the piano untouched. There followed another group of songs by Mrs. Furness "Snowflakes," "The Leaves of the Wind," and "The Waters of Minnetonka," the latter delivering special mention, as it was exquisitely rendered by Mrs. Furness and the violin obbligato by Mrs. Hough left nothing to be desired. Mrs. Catherine Charles from her wide experience with books of all kinds and folk lore, produced several interesting legends of Christmas, the history of which were most entertaining and educational.

At the close of the program the guests received their gifts, distributed by number. After the examining of the gifts they placed each article on tables provided in the sun parlor to be inspected by Mrs. Sharp Jackson, Mrs. T. B. Magee and Mrs. W. A. Kerr. After much deliberation among the various original items that were made for ten cents, the judges finally selected the cookie jar made by Mrs. Nora Moyer, a new member in the club. Mrs.

Moyer received a handsome Chinese fillet table cover as a reward for her efforts, the gift of the Program committee.

Tea was served in the dining room, with lovely service, Christmas decorations, and lighted green tapers. The entire club was transformed into a Christmas bower with evergreen sprays and Christmas wreaths. The sprays were the gift of Thor W. Bruce, of the Chamber of Commerce. Mrs. J. A. Gelbach and Mrs. Walter Jackson poured at the tea table, and Mrs. Harry Caplan of the Social committee assisted. As an added surprise feature, Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, the president, distributed small souvenir gifts to the members, which were donated by the Chamber of Commerce. These gifts had been received by the Chamber for use in the annual meeting dinner, which was indefinitely postponed.

Fintex Team Of Pittsburgh
Hands 30 To 22 Beating
To Manhattan Quintet

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Dec. 10.—Ellwood City's Manhattan quintet lost their first contest of the year last night when they traveled to Pittsburgh and dropped a tilt to the Fintex by the count of 30 to 22. It was a hard fought battle and the Pittsburghers were forced to come back strong in the second half of the fray to win.

Leisuring and Ketchell lead a strong attack for the winners as they both caged three goals apiece and played a brilliant game. Their work was outstanding at all stages of the battle. Angelo and Miller came through with one apiece.

Lippe did not start the game as he was detained and did not arrive soon enough to appear in the opening lineup but was the big star for the locals as he sank three buckets. The rest of the scoring done by the local club was divided equally as Lloyd Delahunty, Leyda and Friedman each accounted for a field goal. Friedman did well from the free throw line with three out of three tries.

Last night's fray was every close as the half ended 15 to 14 in favor of the Fintex, but in the last part of the battle the Mannhattans weakened to allow the opponents to increase their lead.

Tonight another game will take place at the Shelby floor with the J. J. Miles of Pittsburgh furnishing the opposition. This should be a good battle.

The lineups:

Ellwood City. Fintex.
Lloyd Delahunty. F. Angelo
Leyda. G. Leisuring
Lewis. G. Ketchell
Friedman. G. Miller
Subs.—Ellwood: Lippe for Lloyd, Lloyd for Leyda, Fintex: Paris for Leisuring, Serbin for Paris.

Field goals—Ellwood: Lloyd, Lippe, Delahunty, Leyda, Friedman, Fintex: Angelo, Leisuring, 3, Ketchell, 3, Miller.

Fouls—Ellwood, 8 out of 15. Fintex, 11 out of 15.

Referee—Walter Waite.

Later bridge and 500 games were enjoyed and score honors went to Mrs. George Wilson, Mrs. Edward Eicholtz, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Cleo Hayes. Later delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Wilson and her committee, concluding a pleasant meeting.

Board Lets Contract For Fire Insurance Appraisal In The Six Schools Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 10.—At the December meeting of the Ellwood City Board of Education which took place Tuesday night in the Board room of the Lincoln school, Dr. H. E. Helling and J. W. Offutt were re-elected president and vice-president respectively for the school year of 1931.

The new board then convened and let the contract for the Fire Insurance appraisal of the six schools to the Lloyd Thomas Appraisal company of Pittsburgh. The cost will be $100 and details were explained by a representative of the firm, who was present.

The sub-contractor for the auditorium was present, and it was announced that a final payment of $102.00 was due him. This payment was held over until satisfactory terms could be reached concerning repairing of the floor in the foyer of the auditorium.

The advisability of establishing fire alarm systems in the Hartman and Lincoln schools was discussed. The cost would be $985 for the latter and $750 for the former. Final action on this matter will be taken at the next meeting. Bids were submitted from the Industrial Electric company of Pittsburgh.

The boy traffic policeman will each receive a $1.25 from the Board and an equal amount from the City semi-annually. It was customary formerly to pay them $2.50 annually, but as the boys are changed at mid-year, the new arrangement was regarded as more fair.

The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock.

Womens Club Loans Money For Girl Scout Advancement

Fine Report On Thanksgiving Baskets Given By Mrs. Barton At December Meeting

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 10.—The December meeting of the Ellwood City Women's Club took place on Tuesday afternoon in the Elks Club which was transformed into a Christmas scene for the occasion. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. J. W. Humphrey, president. Among the important items of business revealed, was that of the treasurer, who stated that in response to an agreement, the club had loaned the Girl Scout Council $400 in Building and Loan stocks to use as collateral in negotiating a loan with the local banks for that amount.

Mrs. Berwick Barton, as chairman of the Civic Committee gave a very encouraging report of the recent disposition of baskets to the poor at Thanksgiving time. She stated that 96 baskets had been given, and as the baskets were well-filled and no extra calls for help came in, there was $22.60 surplus. This was voted to be put in a fund and with additions, used for charity at some later date. The public schools had a large part of the success of filling the baskets, with plentiful donations, and many women gave money that do not belong to the club.

A new member, Mrs. Nora Moyer was admitted into the club upon the recommendation of the Membership committee. The treasurer's report was received in detail and filed. The meeting was then turned over to the members of the social committee, a detailed report of the program being given elsewhere on this page.

Kiwanis Club Has Venison Dinner

Kiwanians Hear Fine Address By Rev. D. K. Huber Of The Christian Church Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 10.—The weekly dinner-meeting of the Kiwanis club took place Tuesday evening in the dining room of the Trinity Lutheran church, with a large percentage of members in attendance. A feature of the dinner was that the meat course on the menu was venison, donated by C. H. Blank who recently returned from a hunting trip.

The speaker of the evening was Rev. D. K. Huber of the Christian church who chose as his subject "Accomplishing the Impossible" pointing out the fact that most of the important inventions and activities in the world were accomplished finally, when no one thought it was possible to do so. He stated that the Kiwanis club was making great strides in accomplishing the apparently impossible objects in life, and congratulated the club as a whole.

The members then held a short business session and voted to have the meetings on Tuesday nights instead of Monday nights as was formerly the custom. A special guest was A. B. Cameron of Pittsburgh.

Zelenople Sees Drought Relief

Rains Of Recent Week Are Helping Situation In Borough

ZELIENOPLE, Dec. 10.—Relief from the water situation is expected in Zelenople in a very short time. More rain fell Friday, Friday night, Saturday and Sunday than has fallen here for several months, and it is hoped that the water in the reservoir will be ready for use in a very short time, also many wells, springs and cisterns that have not had water in for the past few months, will again be ready for use.

Many wells, springs, and cisterns that have not for years been dry, have now had water in, and the situation looked cheerful. In the country near here, in the Little Creek district, farmers have been without water, and had to drive their cattle for some distance to the creek for water. All smaller streams were dry for some time, but are now again running. Considerable rain fell more than has fallen at one time since June 10, when a heavy rain fell, and since that time the rains were only light ones, and did not help the water situation.

For more than two months water from the Connoquessing creek has been used by the Zelenople Water company, but the reservoir is now fuller than it has been for some time, and will likely be turned in for use by the residents, which is much better than the water that the residents have had to use. Gardner Explains Point System In Selecting Champs

Faculty Manager of Athletics of the Senior high school, Ralph H. Gardner in a letter to the Sports Editor to the News, explains how the point system is worked out and how the championship schoolboy eleven is selected at the end of the season in the W. P. I. A. L. league. Mr. Gardner has the following to say:

Sports Editor,
New Castle News,
New Castle, Pa.
Dear Sir:

One of your representatives has asked me to explain the so called point system as used by the W. P. I. A. L. in determining its football championship. He advises me that there is considerable misunderstanding among New Castle Sport fans and considerable interest in the matter. I am therefore very much pleased to give you such information as I can.

The point system and the rules and regulations governing it are adopted by the W. P. I. A. L. as follows. The League is divided into two groups, A class A group and a class B group.

First. The classification being on the basis of enrollment of schools with an enrollment of five hundred or over in class A, and of schools with an enrollment under five hundred in class B; it being provided that a class B school may be given a class A rating by the football committee upon the request of such a school.

Second. Each school in its class division is required to play six games. It may play more.

Third. For each game a team wins in its class division it receives 100 points, for each game it ties it receives 50 points.

Fourth. For each game the defeated team wins it receives ten points. For each game a defeated team plays it receives five points.

Fifth. For each game a team wins it receives five points.

Sixth. A defeat or a tie of a class A team by a class B team does not effect the point standing of the class B team, but it counts the same as a loss for the class A team.

The number of points which a team earns in the above manner are totaled and divided by the number of games it has played within its class division and this determines its point standing for the season.

Seventh. The football committee is then empowered to award the championship to the team with the highest point standing, or it may direct the two teams with the highest point standing to play a post season game. The winner of which shall be awarded the championship of the league, and in case of a tie, the championship shall be jointly held by these two teams.

The following general observations may be interesting to the local sport fans. Previous to the adoption of the point system, the championship of the league was determined by a self constituted group of Alumni of Syracuse University from the City of Pittsburgh, who met annually and awarded the trophy to the team which in their judgment might be deserving. They occasionally selected two teams and requested them to play a post season game for the championship. The objections to this method of having a championship season named are obvious. Had this method been used for the current season it is highly probable that they would have awarded the championship to Redstone, or would have requested Redstone and Monessan High School to play a post season game for the championship as they were two undefeated teams during the current season.

The point system was adopted by the league in the hope of reducing by mathematics the number of contenders for the championship and it has always been recognized by the football committee that the percentage of error in such a method was very great particularly in the case of the W. P. I. A. L. where the members in each division is between fifty and sixty schools. To reduce this percentage of error the league which originally was violently opposed to the post season game finally yielded to the request of the football committee and granted them the power to direct a post season game which obviously reduces the percentage of error considerably. Last year some of us on the football committee were very much in favor of directing Clairton, and Rochester High Schools both of whom were undefeated to play a post season game, but we were over ruled by the majority of the committee.

The committee originally consisted of twelve members; this year the committee was reduced to three members and because of the fact that Redstone and Monessan High Schools had the highest point standing we directed the post season playoff.

As inadequate as the point system is it seems to me increasingly meet with approval of the majority of the league schools. It has had one beneficial effect, namely it has caused the leading schools to play a greater number of games with each other. In my way this has been unfortunate as the strongest teams have to kill off each other so that a team with comparatively easy schedule has been enabled to have an undefeated season and thereby secure the highest point standing.

I believe I am stating the truth when I say that quite a number of the leading coaches in this district join with me in believing that New Castle school really had the best football team in the W. P. I. A. L. this current year.

The league is aware of the weakness of this so called point system and a majority of the league has already gone on record as being in favor of the creation of a class AA division of the league, such group to consist of from ten to fifteen of the schools whose football records for the last few years entitle them to membership in this group. The football committee at the present time is working out the details for such a proposed change, and we believe that we are going to be able to have this method bring about a condition whereby the championship of the class AA division will rule supreme in Western Pennsylvania football, in fact as well as in name.

The present football committee is composed of John Holton of Latrobe High School, David Stewart of Beaver High School and the writer. We are being intelligently assisted by Mr. Crane of Monongahela High School who is president of the league.

Our recommendation on this change will be presented to that body at its annual spring meeting, but this classification probably will not go into effect until the fall of 1932 as most high schools already have their football schedule largely formed for the season of 1931.

In conclusion I might add that we have written to many different sections of the United States in an effort to find out what other cities are doing in this matter of determining football championships, and we find that we have made much greater progress than any of these other sections, working under greater difficulties than the most of them have, due to the fact that the membership of the W. P. I. A. L. is the largest of any single group in the United States. We are therefore pioneering in this matter and believe that we are now on the road to the real solution. If there is any further information that I can furnish you or the sport fans of New Castle I shall be most happy to do so.

Yours very truly,
Ralph H. Gardner.

Union Set For Battle Tonight

Evans City High Will Test Union In Opening Floor Game Tonight

Tonight at 8 o'clock Coach David Morgan Boyd, will trot out his Union School varsity basketball five for the initial game of the 1930-31 season. Evans City High, members of the W. P. I. A. L. Section Three, will be the opponents.

Union has picked a tough customer to handle in the first battle. Evans City has a veteran team and one that caused a lot of commotion in the section last year. Coach Boyd is confident that his Blue and White charges will make a creditable showing against the stronger and more experienced foes from Butler county.

Invaders Are Fast
Coach Besnecker will bring a fast squad to Union. The Evans City boys figure on the game tonight to be a practice affair, but they may be mistaken about that. Union is no push-over.

Coach Boyd has selected Lannigan, Jaworski, Augustyn, Sniezek and Severa as the starting lineup, but will have a flock of capable subs sitting on the bench ready to enter the game at a minutes notice. Most all of the players will be given a chance tonight to see how they act under fire.

Following are the probable lineups:
Evans City Union High
Denbrow F Lannigan
Myers F Augustyn
Besnecker C Sniezek
Wahl G Severa
Gelbach G
Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Croton Team Has Good Grid Record

Marcella Opponents Have Been Defeated Once In Three Seasons

Croton A. C. football team which meets the Marcellas for the independent championship of the city on Saturday afternoon at Taggart field in a benefit game for the unemployed has made an enviable record on the gridiron in three seasons. The two teams in question are undefeated for this season and a victory will end a splendid season for the winner.

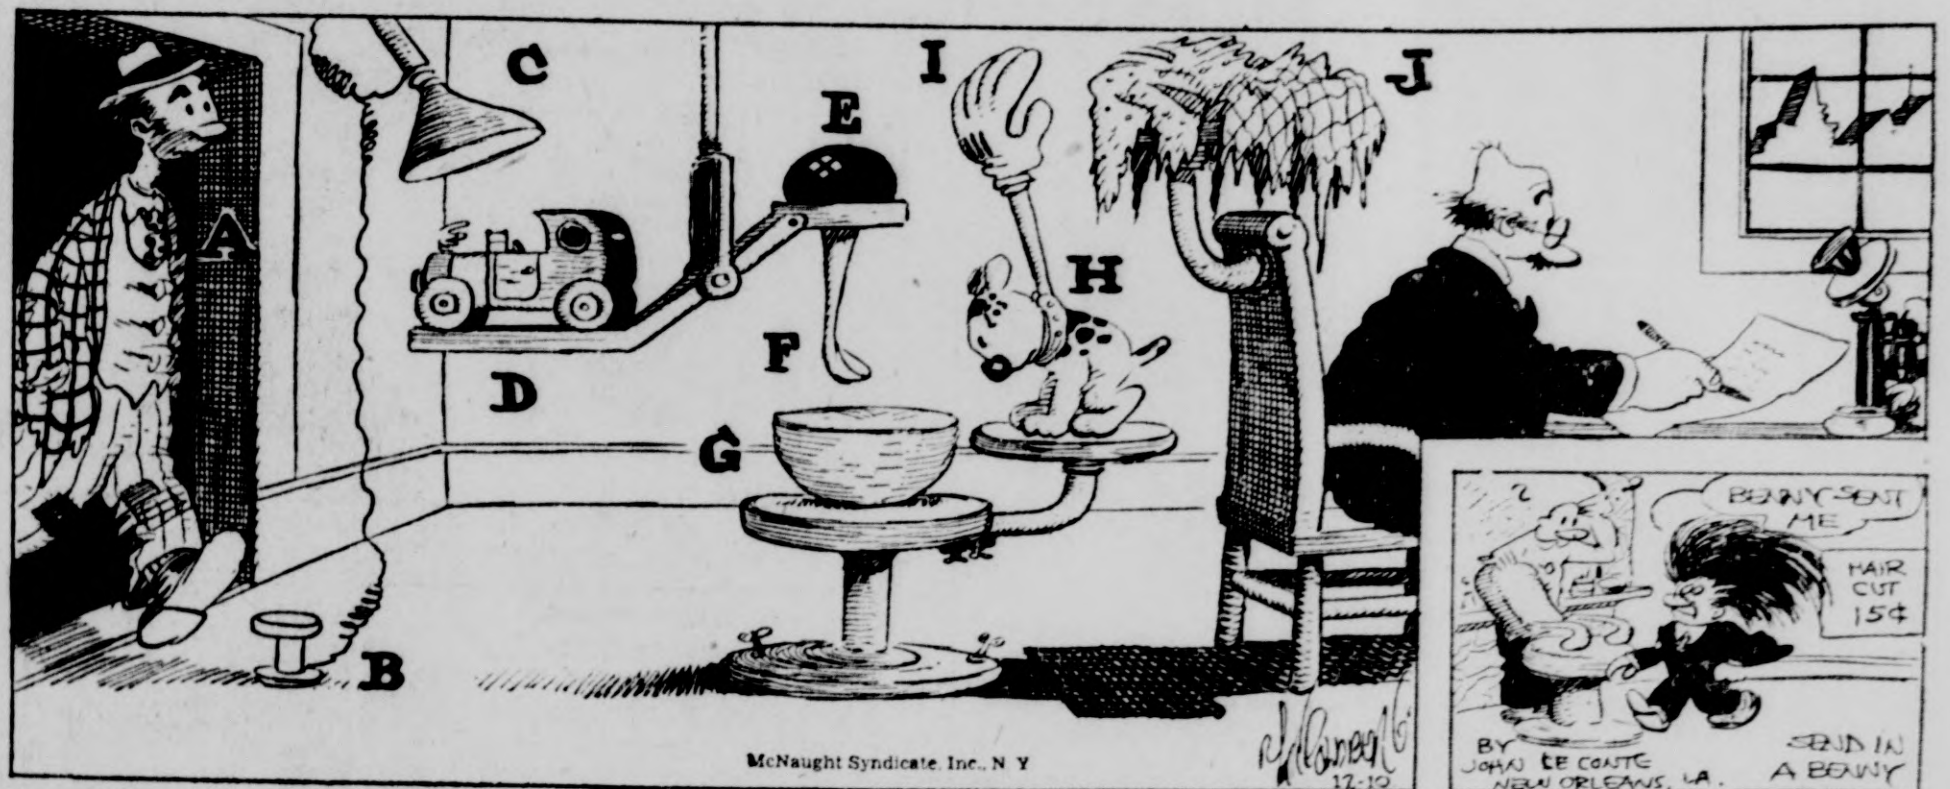

In '28 Croton captured six contests and lost one. In 1929 the Crotonites defeated seven teams and failed to receive a setback and so far this season have won four straight games. In three years Croton has won 17 games, lost one and was scored upon but twice. Croton was the independent champion last season and is favored to cop this season.

The Marcellas so far this season have won all games played here in the independent league. Only recently the south siders stepped on their class to play the Ellwood City ex-high stars. Marcellas were the underdogs but after the game the Ellwoodians were fortunate enough in securing a tie.

Army Eleven Is Not Confident, Middies Strong

Mayor Sasse, Coach Of Army Eleven, Has Gigantic Task Ahead Of Him

NAVAL BOYS ARE AFTER VICTORY

By CHRISTIAN "RED" CAGLE
International News Service Sports Writer
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—The Army has defeated the Midshipmen 15 times while the Cadets have lost twelve games to Navy gridders.

This clearly shows that the service schools have been equally matched over the forty years which have elapsed since the beginning of this series between the teams.

Quoting odds for the Army is all the bunk. This game between the two service schools here Saturday is certain to be a struggle to the finish as has been all others. The Army looks better on paper but dope is very fallible when service teams clash.

Play Close Games

Remember the last two encounters? At Chicago and the polo grounds in 1926 and 1927, respectively. The first game terminated in a 21-21 deadlock after the Middies had taken an early lead of fourteen points. The game at the polo grounds found the Navy leading at the half with two points when they blocked an Army punt behind the goal line. Only because of the dashing, slashing, repunting runs of the incomparable "light horse" Harry Wilson was the Army able to eke out a 14-0 victory. In the closing minutes Navy was threatening a cyclone when Whitey Lloyd was throwing passes all over the checked field to Sloan, Navy's dashing left end.

As a basis for quoting the odds as even money, we have only to go directly to Annapolis and West Point for some inside information. The mail man has been burdened a little heavily at the two schools recently. Every Kaydet who knows a Middle personally are waiting for wagers.

Will Be Spectacle

No money. The betting includes bathrobes, blankets, sweaters, cuff buttons, belts and numerous articles of regulation equipment. Every bet is taken and nobody asks for odds of two bathrobes against a belt or any such arrangement.

Major Sasse has the task of working on the mental attitude of his charges more than perfecting plays and defense. At this time, the Kaydets are taking "wits" in mathematics, law, ballistics, etc., and they are more important to the life of the Cadet than is winning a football game. However, it will be impossible to calm the spontaneous enthusiasm which exudes in the atmosphere of the Plains-on-the-Hudson.

It is sure to be a spectacle with the bands, banners and braid. Glamour and tradition are the background for the clash and its fifty-fifty chance for either team.

New Castle Quintet Prepares For Initial Game Of Season Friday

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh Sends Cohorts Through Long Workout On Tuesday

Senior High Boys Look Good In Practice; Lose Three Passers During Season

Coach Phil Bridenbaugh sent his 1930-31 basketball candidates through a long session drill on Tuesday afternoon at the Senior high gymnasium in preparation for the opening here on Friday night.

The varsity team which will probably line up against the Wilkesburg passers will include Regis McAuley and Nick Uram at guard; Francis Wario, at center, and Luther Rowe and James Shaffer at forwards. This is the team that opposed the second string team on Tuesday afternoon.

This quintet is practically the same one that rolled through that splendid season in 1929 with only one defeat. These five passers saw action as varsity men Arthur Alexander is the only missing one from last season's combination.

Three of the boys on the first string will be lost during the season. Regis McAuley becomes ineligible on February 8, and Luther Rowe and Francis Wario graduate in January. In losing these three boys, the local school loses three good passers.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner stated this morning that the game will get underway promptly at 8:00 o'clock. Workers are busily engaged putting up the bleachers at the Senior high gym for the opening tilt.

Bedenk Picks Best Guards Found On 1930 Grid Teams

MUNN Minnesota
WISNIEWSKI Fordham
FORQUER Kentucky
OBST Syracuse
WOODWORTH Northwestern
DRESHAR Carnegie Tech

By JOE BEDENK
ALL-AMERICAN GUARD—1923
Written Especially for Central Press and New Castle News.

Many new names will be found this year as candidates for the All-American selections at guard position. The two greatest of last year, Jack Cannon, of Notre Dame, Roy Montgomery, of Pittsburgh, and many runners-up are out of college ranks.

Guards mean very little to the average football fan, but to the scientific observer, the success of an offense and defense depends greatly upon the two men in these positions. They are used to lead the interference on outside plays, in fact they are really backfield men on the offense, and on defense, they not only protect their territory from quick thrusts into the line, but come back into the secondary defense to defend against the dangerous forward pass.

Incidentally even late in November there was less mention of All-American teams than in any previous year. Yet, we are beginning to see the faces and names of outstanding men in print.

The outstanding guards this year are many, and come from various sections of the country, but I believe that "Pistol Pete" Wisniewski of Fordham, and "Red" Woodward of Northwestern are the two greatest men for this position.

Pete, Red—Best
Wisniewski with his 225 pounds and height of over six feet has been the tower of strength in Fordham defense. Still with his weight, he is one of the best running interferers seen in the east this year. "Red" Woodward, outstanding in the Big Ten, is one of the main causes of Coach Dick Hanley's success; a great interlocker with speed of a backfield man, and the charge of a cannon.

John Dreshar, captain and guard of Carnegie Tech, was outstanding last year—a close follower in popularity to Cannon and Montgomery, the 1929 All-American guards. He is still carrying on his fine work through this season.

Purdue has George Stears, Army has Captain Polly Humber, Minnesota has Clarence Munn, all great players. Syracuse has Henry Obst, one of the fastest knifing into the opponents' backfield that I have seen this season. Colgate brings forth a pair of above average guards, in Lockwood and Doyle, both men crowding 200 pounds and six feet in height, an asset to any team. The south comes through with an exceptional guard, Sington, of Alabama, 225 pounds, plays either guard or tackle, but at both he is a star. He leads interference and on defense he is playing in the other fellow's backfield all the time. Florida's guard, Jimmie Steele, 195 pounds, has been outstanding for three years and is their greatest man.

Georgia's guard candidate is Leathers, a very fine player, but does not rate with the best.

Kentucky's Star
Kentucky's captain, Floppy Forquer, is the star lineman and guard of that section of the Southern conference.

The west has three outstanding guards, two of whom play on a so-called weak team. Ted Beckett of California is the best guard on the Pacific coast. His playing has been outstanding throughout the year. His greatest performance was in the California-Southern California game, although his team lost 74-0. Carl Handy, captain of California's team, and Baker of Southern California, are both wonderful guards and should make All-Pacific coast with national mention.

In comparison with these young giants, all exceptional men at these positions, we have Bert Metzger of Notre Dame, only weighing 155 pounds. Last year Notre Dame had Cannon, All-American guard. This year they should nickname this man "Cannon Ball" Metzger, as he is such on defense, both charging into the opponents' offense and coming back to protect against forward passes. He is a good offensive interlocker and blocker, but his size may be against him in comparing him for All-American.

Local Fan Picks All-Star Lineups

Loyal "Odey" Foster, 218 Bellevue avenue, today submitted to The News sport department two all-star football teams, selected from the teams ranging from 1922 to 1929, and not including this year's team. Foster says that he has seen ninety percent of the games played by New Castle High since Bridenbaugh took charge in 1922 and feels that the two teams he has selected represents in a fair measure the standard of the players.

The players were picked on the strength of their High school playing. We are forced to admit that "Odey" is a good picker, and that either of the two teams would acquire themselves quite brilliantly.

Here they are—
First team: A. Ostrousky, L. E. Hammill, Cunningham, L. T. Cuba, Fox, L. C. De Carlo, Haug, R. G. Christian, Leonard, R. T. Hess, Sargeant, R. E. J. Dufford, Hill (Capt.), R. H. (Capt.) Ward, J. Hess, L. H. A. Alexander, Harper, F. B. J. Smith

The Thorn coach ed machine led all the way, with Captain Tom Burke, getting five baskets. Birdie Krankota was the big star for Butler caging four baskets. Stavnitsky, star guard, was out of the Crimson lineup with a wrenched knee.

Football Group To Study Way To Name Division Champion

Present Selection System Product Of Mid-West—Injustice Is Reported

HARRISBURG, Pa., Dec. 10.—Over the winter period and until next May, officials and members of the Eastern Pennsylvania Interscholastic Football Conference will concern themselves with consideration of a more equitable system of choosing a divisional champion.

The annual meeting here this year brought to a head current dissatisfaction with the present method of selecting a conference champion because for the second time it permitted a team that had been tied to stand higher than one which had won all its games. Williamsport, the 1930 champion, won four and tied one in conference action, while Allentown and John Harris each won seven.

The present selection system was a product of the Mid-West and was introduced several years ago. Under the plan, each victory counts 100 points for the winning team. In addition the winner collected 10 points for each victory the team it has defeated scored during the season and lost five points for each additional or previous defeat the conquered club recorded. At the end of the season total points, with subtraction or addition completed, were divided by the number of games to secure an average.

The injustice of that system was shown by objectors in Allentown's case. Two years ago Allentown went through the season with a single defeat, a year ago with only a tie and this year with a perfect record, yet Allentown has not ranked as high as runner-up in conference standings.

Several ideas were presented for changing the system, and president-elect, Ralph Wetherhold of Allentown, was empowered to name a committee to study the project, with report and suggestions due at the May meeting of the conference. The plan used in the western division was reported to have similar shortcomings, as Johnstown, champions of the western conference this season, also presented a tie on their record, while several others were undefeated. Under the western conference plan the average is struck by dividing the total number of points scored by victories, 100 for each win, by the number of games and then adding and subtracting the bonus and demerit points based on records of defeated teams.

Another plan proposed to penalize to greater extent the team with a tie on its record. At present, teams tying in conference play receive 50 points each and only half the demerits which would be recorded by the other team's losses thereafter.

B. And O. Bowlers In Action Friday

Teams of the B. and O. Duxpin league will swing into action Friday evening when the second game of the season will be played. The league pried off the lid last Friday, and will be getting into their stride in the games this week. There are a number of high class bowlers in the league and some good scores are looked for as the season gets under way.

Shenango Boys And Girls Team Defeat Darlington Passers On Tuesday

Both basketball teams of Shenango came through victorious on Tuesday evening at Darlington when the Shenango boys varsity team won its third straight game of the season by defeating the Darlington quintet 21-17 in a close game. The East New Castle girls triumphed over Darlington by a 21-14 count.

The two games proved thrillers. The Shenango girl stars on Tuesday were Lutton and the two guards Swisher and Cowmeadow. Miss Lutton found the hoops seven times. Magee was the best for the losers, caging seven baskets. The Shenango team looked good in the victory. Coach "Pop" Johnston was pleased as his boys trimmed the third straight opponent played this season. The game proved fast and exciting with the score see-sawing back and forth until the final minutes when Shenango piled up a four-point lead and held onto it until the final whistle blew.

Collins and Craig were the best for the Shenango boys while Fabyanick and Bradshaw were the best for Darlington. The next game for Shenango will be played on December 19, the East New Castle five playing Union at Union high.

HOW TO BUY USED CARS

There are just two ways of selecting a used car. One of them is making a few haphazard calls on second hand dealers, probably passing up the best buy of all.

The other is by checking through the used car columns of this paper, noting what appears to be the three or four best buys, and making your selection from among these offers.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Market Has Moderate Rally After Opening

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—A better outlook for the Steel industry as reported in the weekly trade surveys and the declaring of regular $2 dividend on New York Central stock helped to firm up the stock market in the early trading today. After an irregular opening, in which most of the leaders lost ground, the market staged a moderate rally and recovered more than its lost ground.

Though Steel production declined to 38 per cent of capacity this week, the Iron Age painted a much more pleasing picture of the Steel trade outlook in its weekly review, particularly as related to the incoming orders of the big concerns. The U. S. Steel corporation's report on forward tonnage, due at noon today was awaited with considerable interest, it was expected to show an increase of 100,000 to 150,000 tons during November.

New York Central rallied after the dividend announcement to 123, up 4 points from yesterday's low. U. S. Steel sold up about a point at 142 1/2, and Standard Oil of N. J. a point to 52 1/2. American Can rose a point to 113 1/2.

Continued weakness in the bond market gave the bears their best argument in the second hour, and selling from that and other sources again forced prices lower as the session advanced. Johns Manville was again under pressure and sold off 3 1/2 points to a new low at 58. Bethlehem Steel lost a point, and most of the Utilities settled down to a lower level. "Tax selling" was Wall Street's explanation for the persistent offering of stocks and bonds.

Call money was unchanged at 2 per cent.

ELLWOOD CITY

bers of the January Graduating Class of the Lincoln high school will present "Kempy" a recent current stage success on Broadway, in the Lincoln auditorium on Thursday night. A fine cast has been well selected and drilled into their various roles, resulting in a play that should provide two hours of pleasant entertainment.

Charity Ball Is Very Successful

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 10.—The third annual Charity Ball given under the auspices of the Ellwood City National Council of Jewish Women took place Tuesday evening in the Shelby auditorium, and from the opening dance to the "Home Sweet Home" waltz was very successful. Large crowds attended the affair, dancers present from Pittsburgh, New Castle, Zelienople and the Beaver Valley. The lovely gowns of the women were set off by pretty decorations, and a broad-casting orchestra played irresistible music for the program of dancing. The local council of Jewish Women is to be congratulated on the success of the affair.

POOR PRINCESSES FIND ROYAL 'ELIGIBLES' DWINDLING

With fewer than a third the number of reigning families that existed in Europe prior to the war, princesses eligible for matrimony find their choice of a husband narrowed. Only one prince can hope to become a prince consort since Juliana of Holland (7) is the only princess who is heirless to a throne. Virtually the only royal husbands available today are (1) the Spanish Prince of Asturias, (2) Prince Cyril, Bulgarian heir; (3) Prince Gustav

Adolf, eldest son of the Swedish crown prince; (4) Crown Prince Frederick of Denmark; (5) King Achmed Zogu of Albania; (6) the divorced King Carol of Rumania and (8) the world's most eligible bachelor, the Prince of Wales.

SUIT IS BROUGHT ON GROCERY BILL

David C. Hamilton and Roy H. Hamilton, trading as Hamilton Bros., of Ellwood City, have filed a suit at the prothonotary's office against Stanley and Leona Hertzog to collect a bill of $372.03. It is claimed that the bill is for groceries purchased at the store of the plaintiffs.

You're the JUDGE

The Decision

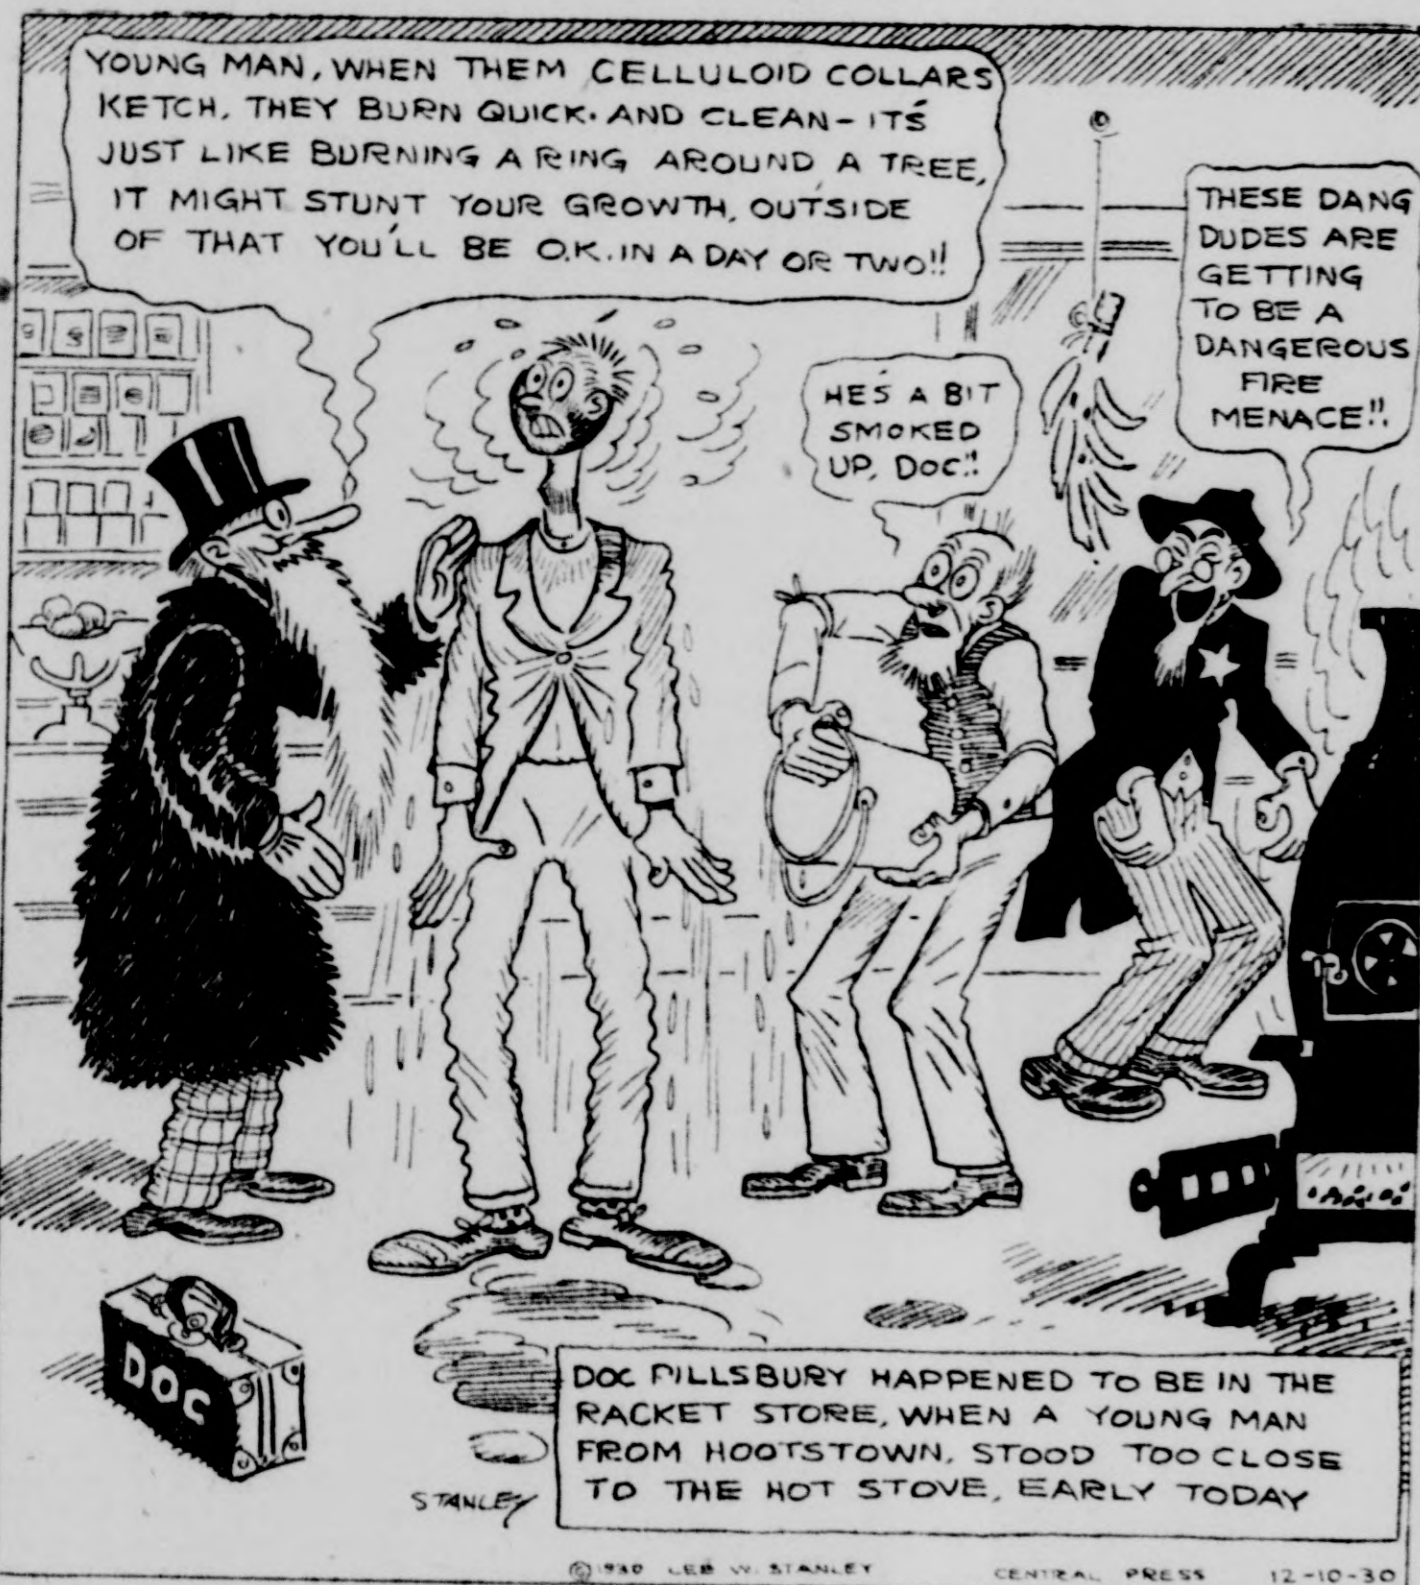

The court held the two boys guilty. The judges reasoned thus: Whatever may have been the negligence of the pedestrian, the prisoners ought not to be exonerated for the consequences of their own acts. Driving in such a manner as to be unable to avoid striking a pedestrian in the middle of the road amounts to an illegal act, and the brothers must be found guilty no matter what the pedestrian may have contributed.

Governor-Elect Meets Senators

Continues Conferences With State Senators During Morning

ONE DEMOCRAT SHARES SESSIONS

By ARTHUR B. DONEGAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, Dec. 10.—Having conferred with thirteen Republican members and one Democrat of the State Senate, Governor-Elect Gifford Pinchot today prepared to receive a dozen more senators in a conference here before he left for Pottsville this afternoon to address the annual convention of the Pennsylvania State Grange.

From Pottsville, the governor-elect will go to Philadelphia tonight.

While admitting that his conferences, already extending over two days, may have a bearing on the organization of the next legislature by the incoming administration, the governor-elect declined to make known what had passed between him and the senators from the interior counties—with one exception. That was a discussion with Senator William H. Earnest, of Dauphin county, regarding his inauguration next month.

At the close of his conference with Senator Earnest, the governor-elect announced that they had agreed to cut all expenses of the inaugural ceremony, and today word was forthcoming from the "tall for-ester" that $3,000 had been set as the limit which may be expended on the inauguration.

The lone Democrat who called on the governor-elect at headquarters here was Senator-Elect Henry L. Snyder, of Lebanon county, who defeated former Senator Horace Schantz, of Allentown, in the November election.

Similar conferences with members of the House will be held here before the inauguration, the governor-elect stated, but early today he had set no date for the discussions.

Many Photos On Walls Of Sheriff's Office

Year by year the sheriff's office at the Lawrence county jail, Court street, becomes more and more like a picture gallery. Every once in awhile someone hangs a new photograph on the wall, until now there isn't a whole lot of wall space left. Over the mantel there is a large photograph of a baseball team composed of a crowd of one-time expert pitchers, batters and home-runners. Such men as Charley Powers, Bob Whaley, Judge Emery and Billy Ellis play on that team.

Not far from that picture is a splendid photograph of the old "Neshannock" baseball team. All of the older citizens of this city remember that team. It was the Neshannocks who made New Castle famous all over the country. Of the group pictured, four of the men are living. Of the four, Bob Whaley and Ed Bigley live here in New Castle. Others shown were Eugene Richardson, Joe Quest, L. McGuffey, Charles Warnock, Robert McGuffin, Joe McCaslin and Charley Bennett.

Then too, there are pictures of later and not so famous baseball teams, basketball teams, football teams and well known stars of a couple years ago. In addition to the sport pictures are a couple of photographs of the county jail and of the sheriff and deputies and of Irene Schroeder, who was convicted for the slaying of Highway Patrolman Paul.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Traffic lights aren't a bad thing (well, not too bad) when they are in working order, but when they get balky they're considerable of a mess. The one at East Washington and Croton went haywire last night, and stood for an hour or more with the light set for traffic from Washington onto Croton and red all the other three ways.

A group of young fellows standing on the curb took it on themselves to help drivers out and waved them through as they came up. Some of them didn't see the fellows and pulled up with a long line of traffic back of them.

Drivers making the turn from Washington to Croton had the green light and wondered if the other drivers had gone goofy. And over at the police station it seemed as though every other driver stopped long enough to report the light.

By now the coal field up in Croton looks like a honeycomb. The circle of digging has been extended and near almost every opening is a fire to keep the diggers warm. It has been estimated that the field contains about 13,000 tons of coal, and of this amount about 2,000 tons have been removed.

The lady on Moody avenue was in a rather critical mood. She suggested that perhaps if we would wait until Christmas week and see the lighting on her street, perhaps it wouldn't be necessary to go crackling wise about Winter avenue. And so now it looks as though the Moody avenue folks were going to show us some real lighting.

And perhaps some of the other cross streets running through Highland will also take up the cudgels and show the East Winter avenue people what a job of lighting should be. But in the meantime, don't lay any bets that the Winter avenue lighting won't be tasty as usual.

It doesn't always take women to clean house. Up at the Delta Phi Sigma house at Westminster college yesterday afternoon one of the football men was making a line buck on the stair carpet with a vacuum sweeper, while in the living room another group was "in a huddle around a divan that had been broken down.

Whether the breakdown occurred due to infirmities of old age, or some of the boys had been using it for a tackling dummy wasn't shown, but shortly before dinner time it was being operated upon for fallen arches or a sway back or something.

It's an off season around colleges now. Sort of a recuperative period. The students are resting their vocal organs from the football season so they can be in voice for the basketball season. But over around the gym it's different. Popsy Harrison who like Young Lochinvar, came out of the west, is running the boys ragged getting them in shape for the hoop season and reports sent out by the secret agents of this department are that everything looks hotly toasty.

If the first string squad of Westminster players were laid end to end, it would reach a long way, according to Jack Hulme. Anybody under six feet is looked upon as a runt. Williams of Sharon looks as though he might be all right when he gets his growth. Just now he is only something like six feet five or thereabouts. But then he's just a young fellow.

FABIAN REPORTED SOMEWHAT BETTER

Fred Fabian, New Castle high football star injured sometime ago in practice is reported improving in the Cleveland Clinic, according to word received by the family here.

JUNIOR LIFE SAVERS HOLD REHEARSAL FOR COMING EXAMINATION

Thirteen were present at the sixth session of practice of the Junior Life Saving club in the Y. M. C. A. pool Tuesday evening. The group met under the direction of Joe Bara, layman swimming instructor.

The principles of approach and land release were studied. The club completed the third hour of the five-hour rehearsal required before the regular life saving examination can be taken.
